News from Robert Burns
Why Three Were Killed
Election Big, People Cold
Red Mars Comes Near

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE, who plays with spiritualism, as do other getting old, has news from Robert Burns. That poet says—from heaven, wherever spirits dwell—that he does like the pictures of himself usually and tells which pictures he does

As long as he was talking, what a Burns did not dictate another or two! His description of the where spirits live would be worth especially news of that wraith on the Scotch tombstone as struck midnight.

Why must spirits always send silly messages, such as "Mamma is very

THE explanation of the tragedy, as can guess, is "bootleg whisky." whisky is poisonous; the sort laborers is murderously poi-

What the law will do to that father certain. What it will do to those sold him the bootleg poison is quite um. It will do nothing.

THIS election is important to politicians and especially to corporaThe people also are interested, though apparently many of them do know it. When there is a queen or a big prize fight approaching, the people wake up, but not at elec-

In 16 states about to elect senators results are in doubt. These doubtful states run east and west from Massachusetts to Oregon, south to Arizona, north to Idaho.

What interests corporations and politicians is this:

THERE has been no definite Republican leadership, the biggest men fearing to mix too much in the various complications—Ku Klux, prohibition, world court, etc.

If the country wakes up after election to find a Republican president lacking support in the senate it will meet a complicated situation.

CONGRESS has advantages and disadvantages. This country is so big that outside of presidential elections there is little united action in politics. One section does not know what the other one wants.

Textile workers in New England cannot share the troubles of wheat farmers in North Dakota. There is not much pulling together.

OUR smaller neighbor, Mars, older, probably wiser, than we, swings close to our earth. Between Oct. 27 and Nov. 4 the red planet will be only forty-three million miles away, half the distance to our own sun.

Of all planets traveling with us, as the sun rushes on, Mars alone is near enough for study, the only one that our telescopes can reach for surface study.

ASTRONOMERS eagerly await the close approach, to study once more the canals, so much discussed, and possibilities of intelligent life on the planet. Ages of millions of years hence our race may need such artificial canals to bring the waters of our oceans. The slow whirling motion, mountain tops wearing by frost, washed down by rain and melting snow, rivers washing soil into the oceans, constantly make the earth round more nearly round. When the earth becomes quite round, with no deep valleys to hold the ocean's water, men will have to dig artificial oceans or canals here, as some think they have already done on Mars. Failing that, the whole earth would be completely covered with water, four miles deep, and there would be no life but fish life.

THAT need not discourage your buying real estate, for it is a long way off. But it makes the doings of the Martians theoretically interesting. Barring accidents in space, this earth will last hundreds of millions of years longer, and men will perform wonderful engineering feats in time.

If the earth's life a million years is a mile, for this globe is already hundreds of millions of years old, and only a mile of it has just started. When geology tells you that dinosaurs ruled the earth for about 9,000,000 years, and then mysteriously died out, you

QUEEN PENS TRIBUTES TO STATES AS SHE LEAVES NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—The special train carrying Queen Marie of Roumania, her son, Prince Nicholas and her daughter, Princess Ileana, left the Grand Central Terminal at 7:30 o'clock this morning, enroute for West Point, Albany, Buffalo, Chicago and the Pacific coast. Only a handful of the curious were on hand to get a glimpse of the queen and they were disappointed as she was asleep when the train pulled out.

Thus the queen bade farewell to New York, where she landed a week ago, after a continuous round of public and private functions.

The royal party spent the night aboard the special train in Grand Central Station after attending a performance of the queen's fantasy, "The Lily of Life," at the Metropolitan Opera House.

The queen occupied J. P. Morgan's box. Nearby boxes cost from $1,000 to $5,000 each, while the galleries were thronged with spectators who had paid only 50 cents for admission.

Queen Marie denied reports from Vienna that her husband, King Ferdinand, has ordered her back home because of criticism of her visit to this country. She admitted having received cablegrams from the king, but asserted that he merely was concerned for her health.

Although Dr. Arthur B. Duell, a throat specialist, who has been attending the queen, announced that her majesty was greatly improved, Miss Adeline Young, a trained nurse, brought here from Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, accompanied the queen on her western tour.

Frederick Moore, secretary of the Marybill Museum, which the queen will visit, did not depart with the royal party. He had been in charge of the trip, but resigned because of a spat with Col. James R. Carroll, counselor for the Northern Pacific Railroad. Moore charged mismanagement of the trip.

Tributes penned by the queen to each of the 48 states, were being forwarded to the various governors today. In each of them, her majesty said she wanted to visit the state named, although she will not visit California. Her message to the latter state follows:

"California—land of the setting sun, of the golden gate, and the days of '49.

"Of giant trees, of John Muir and Joquin Miller, Bret Harte, Edwin Markham, nature's great poet, and other big men.

"House of modern miracles and genuine hearts;

"I greet you and greet you, California, great queen of the west, for your extreme beauty and for what you have accomplished for humanity.

"May I come and see you one day.

"Marie, queen of Roumania."

Marion Gets First Touch of Winter

HALF INCH OF SNOW FALLS IN SEVERAL HOURS

Mercury Column Slumps to Freezing Level; Record for Season

1.3 INCHES OF RAIN FALL

Icy Blast from North Follows 24 Hours of Continuous Downpour

Marion early today got its first touch of winter when a half inch of snow fell in this vicinity.

The snow was ushered in by an icy blast from the north which caused the official mercury column to drop 15 degrees to the freezing point. The low mark of the season was registered when the "weather juice" slumped to the 32-degree-mark.

Snow came early today following almost 24 hours of continuous rainfall, and, according to W. O. Alexander, official government observer at Columbus, was general in many cities within a 50-mile belt across the state.

Forecast Warmer

The mercury will begin climbing before Tuesday with the climb being accompanied by more rain, according to the official weather report. Heavy frosts are scheduled for tonight, however.

Fields in Marion County today were again flooded as the result of the heavy rainfall yesterday and last night. Farmers will be unable to harvest their corn crop for several days. The crop, however, has not been seriously damaged, according to general report.

Rainfall was especially heavy in the southern part of the county where hundreds of acres were reported under water today. Beginning early Sunday morning, rain continued in a steady downpour until late last night.

Wheat Planting Delayed

The rain yesterday will again delay the sowing of wheat in Marion County. Only a few farmers in this vicinity have succeeded in planting wheat so far this season.

Although gravel roads in the southern part of the county showed signs of heavy rains, the Scioto river did not again overflow across the prospect-rd.

Rainfall in Marion yesterday measured 1.3 inches.

COAL PRICES CLIMBING IN CITY, SURVEY SHOWS

Greatest Coal Shortage in History Predicted for Ohio

A sharp increase in coal prices in Marion is in effect, according to local fuel company officials.

Pocohontas coal, within the last ten days has increased from the regular fall price of $7.50 a ton to $10 a ton, one dealer reported, and corresponding advances are evident in all other grades.

"The British coal strike is directly responsible for the advance," according to a representative of the Chapman Coal & Supply Co. "Great Britain has come into Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky and purchased thousands of tons of coal."

The present condition will prevail for at least 90 days, it was said today.

Coal Shortage

Ohio will be in the throes of the greatest coal shortage in history and prices will go skyrocketing to war time heights unless the Ohio, West Virginia and other neighboring state operators turn some of their production into this state soon, a survey of coal distributors in Columbus this afternoon showed.

"At present, a million tons a month is being sent to England. Bituminous prices at the mines have gone up for eight successive weeks. This will cause the advance in retail prices," is the version of a representative of the Cuyahoga Coal Co. of Cleveland, today.

TWENTY-SEVEN HURT

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 25—Twenty-seven persons were injured, three perhaps fatally, when a trolley car crashed into a truck here today. The car was crowded with persons on their way to work.

1926 COTTON CROP 17,454,000 BALES

Washington, Oct. 25—The United States will have a cotton crop this year of 17,454,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight, the Crop Reporting Board of the Department of Agriculture forecast today.

Upon the 47,207,000 acres for harvest this year, a yield of 176.7 pounds of lint cotton per acre is estimated.

MAN CONFESSES THAT HE ROBBED MARION HOMES

Eli P. Obenour, 57, in City Prison; Admits Entering Two Residences

Accused of having burglarized three homes within little more than an hour, Sunday morning, Eli P. Obenour, age 57, a former local railroader living at 380 Silver-st, is held at the city prison awaiting filing of formal charges. Obenour was arrested near the Oak-st School Building about 4:30 Sunday morning following robberies at the homes of Thomas Berry, 627 N. Prospect-st, Erwin Born, 619 N. Prospect-st and Maurice Tobin, 498 Oak-st. In a written confession on file with the police and signed by Obenour, he admits entering the Berry and Tobin residences and police say all indications point to his having staged the Born burglary.

"Needed Clothing"

Obenour states that he needed clothing and that to obtain these supplies was the sole object of the thefts but this explanation is regarded with doubt by police.

Obenour's arrest resulted from a call received at the police station from Mrs. Tobin, who was awakened when Obenour was prowling about her home. According to his confession, he took two pairs of trousers and a pair of shoes at the Tobin home and as he was attempting to get away with the loot a metal mechanic's rule dropped from one of

WRECKING CAR CRASHES INTO TELEPHONE POLE

Driver Escapes Without Injury While Machine Is Damaged

Fred Lamb, 532 E. George-st, escaped injury yesterday afternoon when the Dodge wrecking car which he was driving crashed into a telephone pole on the west side of N. Main-st near Copeland-av.

Lamb, employed by the Guy C. Stoltz Co., was returning to the Dodge garage, driving the service car of the company, when a Hupmobile touring car, operated by J. M. Miller, 852 N. State-st, going west on Copeland-av, turned into N. Main-st, directly in front of the machine driven by Lamb.

Unable to stop because of the slippery pavement, Lamb went over the curb on the right side of the street, skidded, and crashed into a telephone pole, snapping it off.

The car was completely wrecked and a new telephone pole is necessary but Lamb miraculously escaped without injury.

VIOLENT STORM SWEEPS MEDITERRANEAN COAST

Rome, Oct. 25—A violent storm has swept the Mediterranean coast of Italy, causing heavy damage.

Via Reggio has been partly flooded and the sea promenade at Leghorn has been swept over by the huge seas.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

Steubenville, Oct. 25—The coroner here today gave a verdict of accidental death in connection with the fatal shooting of Robert Orrison, 38, who died after receiving the charge from a shotgun in the hands of a young boy friend. The load of shot struck Orrison in the chest, death being almost instantaneous.

ORA SLATER PEGGY CAVANAUGH PAT M'DERMOTT

Three of the principals in the Mellett murder at Canton are seen above. McDermott was captured yesterday after a 90-day search by Ora Slater. Miss Cavanaugh's tip of several months ago aided the detective in his search.

EARL NYE SERIOUSLY INJURED AT GALION

Local Erie-Flagman Not Expected To Live Following Fall from Boxcar

Earl Nye, 224 W. Pleasant-st, flagman on the Erie Railroad, today is in City Hospital in a very critical condition from injuries sustained about 5 o'clock, yesterday morning, when he fell from a box car in the Erie yards at Ontario, eight miles east of Galion.

Nye is suffering from a fractured skull, a fractured jaw, a dislocated right wrist, and possible internal injuries.

There were no witnesses to the accident in which the flagman sustained probable fatal injuries.

Falls Headlong

Nye was on top of a box car, evidently working with the brakes, when an unexpected jolt of the train threw him clear of the car headlong to the ground. The slippery and perilous footing on top of the car as the result of the steady downpour of rain yesterday morning is believed to have caused Nye to lose his balance.

The injured man was taken to Good Samaritan Hospital at Galion in an unconscious condition following the fall.

Still in an unconscious state he was removed to City Hospital last night, where he received additional medical attention.

His conditon at noon today was "very serious", according to hospital attaches.

BUS DRIVER SACRIFICES LIFE TO SAVE CHILDREN

Two Men Killed and 11 School Pupils Injured as Train Hits Truck

Chicago, Oct. 25—Two men were killed, four school children were seriously injured and 11 others were slightly hurt today when a school bus in which they were riding was struck by a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul suburban passenger train on a grade crossing at Northbrook, near here.

The dead were: Lyman Dean, driver of the bus who sacrificed his life to save his passengers, and Emil Barnhart, who was riding with Dean on the front seat.

The seriously injured are Alice Landwehr, 16; Gene McLachan, Marcella Koldyn, 15, and Marjorie Schiek, 16.

TORNADO SWEEPS OVER CAMDEN, DAMAGES CITY

Camden, N. J., Oct. 25—A trail of rain and wreckage was left in the wake of a tornado which descended on this city and suburbs this morning, demolishing buildings, uprooting trees and causing slight injuries to several persons who were showered with debris and blown off their feet.

The "twister" swept a narrow path through outlying sections, and struck the residential districts where it did the heaviest damage. It lasted five minutes, appearing from the north and disappearing in a southeasterly direction.

ROUMANIA DENIES RECALL OF QUEEN

Vienna, Oct. 25 — The Roumanian government has issued an official denial of reports that King Ferdinand has called to Queen Marie to return home, because of American criticisms of her tour, it was reported here today.

WORK STARTS ON NEW LUMBER PLANT HERE

A. J. Sauter of Near Prospect Building Mill; To Employ 30 Men

Construction work on a lumber plant that will eventually employ between 25 and 30 men was started today on a site between Cheney-av and the Pennsylvania Railway, below the south terminus of Gill-av by A. J. Seiter of near Prospect, who expects to have the plant in operation within 60 days.

Mr. Seiter will operate a saw mill, which will be the only plant of its kind in the city, to supply local lumber companies. Later he will add a department for turning out finished products for the retail trade.

Two Story Structure

According to the building permit obtained by Mr. Seiter Saturday at the office of City Clerk Stofer, the mill will operate in a two-story frame building, measuring 60 by 106 feet. Sawing will be done on the first floor and the second story is to be used for the finishing plant to be installed after the mill gets under way.

The owner of the new mill, it is stated, will apply to City Council in the near future for an extension of Gill-av to provide him with an outlet for his products.

The saw-mill, it is stated, will be a valuable aid to local lumber companies, which have already contracted for enough of the output to keep the new industry busy for several months.

OHIO REFUSAL TO GIVE INSURANCE PERMIT O. K.

Washington, Oct. 25—The Ohio State Insurance Department acted within its constitutional powers in barring the Palmetto Fire Insurance Co. from doing business within the state because it entered into a contract with the Chrysler Motor Co. to insure automobiles against fire and theft wherever sold, the Supreme Court decided today.

The Ohio superintendent of insurance acted under a state law prohibiting the placing of insurance on property within the state except through a resident agent.

STABILIZATION OF FRANC DECIDED BY BELGIANS

Brussels, Oct. 25—The Belgian cabinet, after a night-long session under the chairmanship of the king, today decided to stabilize the franc at 175 paper francs to the pound sterling.

The cabinet decided to create a new monetary unit, the Belga, which will be equivalent to five paper francs and will be used for foreign dealing.

The stabilization is understood to have made possible a $100,000,000 foreign loan to Belgium.

FINAL DRIVE FOR VOTES OPENS AS ELECTION NEARS

Marion County Enters Last Lap of Biennial State Political Derby

Marion County along with other counties of Ohio, enters the final lap of the biennial state political derby this week with indications that there will be a general increase of activity in a campaign which thus far has been unusually tranquil in this locality.

Candidates for county offices are lining up their forces for a final drive for votes, preparatory to the casting of ballots Tuesday of next week, and the campaign of both parties in Marion and vicinity during the intervening period will be devoted largely to their interests.

Both Democrats and Republicans have scheduled a series of meetings at villages throughout the county for the final week of the campaign and these gatherings are intended primarily to give local candidates an opportunity to meet voters and make known their claims for support at the polls.

According to present indications, there will be no more general party rallies in the city of Marion. The Democrats have held one meeting of this kind with Atlee Pomerene, candidate for United States Senator, as the chief speaker and the Republicans last week staged a gathering which was addressed by United States Senator Fess and Robert A. Taft, speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives.

Speeches Sufficient

Leaders on both sides are of the opinion that the speeches given at these rallies provided sufficient opportunity for Marion County citizens to hear arguments on state and national issues.

The final week opens with both Republicans and Democrats making their customary claims of victory, but neither side is predicting anything that will resemble a landslide. It is generally agreed that the count of votes on the head of the ticket in Marion County is likely to be close and as a consequence lines are being drawn for an intensive drive during the closing days of the campaign.

FEDERATED CLUBS HEAD IS ROLL CALL CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Lewis Uhl Named by Red Cross To Conduct Annual Drive

Mrs. Lewis Uhl, president of the Women's Federated Clubs, today accepted the invitation of the Marion County Chapter of Red Cross to conduct the drive for Red Cross members in the business section of the city Nov. 11.

Acceptance was made by Mrs. Uhl on behalf of her organization.

Captains to head the working group of 10 women will be named by Mrs. Uhl early this week. The teams of workers will be composed of the presidents and welfare chairmen of the several clubs of the city, thus insuring a group of representative women of Marion.

This drive for members in the business district is a distinct departure from any previous campaign in the annual Roll Call of the Marion Chapter, Red Cross. Heretofore effort has been made to enlist the downtown workers in the Red Cross membership campaigns but this year the committee has planned an intensive drive for this portion of the city.

With the announcement of appointments of captains for the business drive by Mrs. Uhl will come a complete plan of the proposed drive from Red Cross headquarters.

NEW FACTORY PROPOSAL ATTRACTS MARION MEN

Meeting Scheduled This Afternoon at Chamber Office To Act on Deal

Announcement made Saturday to the effect that Marion has an opportunity to obtain a new industry of substantial proportions attracted a large crowd of business men to the meeting called at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

All details of the project were to be submitted by George B. Knepp, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who has conducted the negotiations thus far.

Indications at the outset of today's meeting were that the proposal would be accepted and arrangements made for early transfer of the new industry to this city.

DORIS KENYON SILLS IS SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

New York, Oct. 25—The condition of Doris Kenyon Sills, motion picture actress, who is ill with influenza at a private sanitarium here, was reported as slightly improved today. Milton Sills, her actor husband, said he expects his wife to be dismissed from the sanitarium by the end of the week and that they would leave immediately for Hollywood.

The film stars were forced to leave their honeymoon cottage in the Adirondacks just a week after their marriage on Oct. 12.

ADMINISTRATION FIGHTS MOVES TO CUT TARIFFS

Washington Takes View on Mellon's Reply to International Bankers' Manifesto

Washington, Oct. 25—The administration has taken the lead in an effort to prevent tariff tinkering at the coming session of congress. This was the view Washington took today of Secretary of Treasury Mellon's reply to the international bankers' manifesto. In a formal statement he added little to his oral one of last week.

Mellon said, in effect, that leveling of tariff barriers would be fine for Europe and he wished the plan well, but it would be not so good for the United States and the administration is going to fight any moves to cut tariffs here.

He used the oft-told high tariff argument that a reduction of the American tariff would be detrimental to American labor and American prosperity and, in addition, would adversely affect Europe through America's decreased buying power. This same argument has been used by Republican speakers on the stump in the present campaign.

171 ABSENT VOTERS' BALLOTS ARE CAST

Board of Elections Issues 16 Tickets Saturday; Time Up Oct. 30

Sixteen absent voters' ballots were issued Saturday by Marion County Board of Elections bringing the total number for the November election to 171 votes.

The board of elections remained open until 9 o'clock Saturday night for accommodation to those who wished to procure the ballots.

Absent voters' ballots may be received at the board of elections until Saturday, Oct. 30.

"KEY MAN" IN MELLETT DEATH IS CAPTURED

Prosecutor Declares Prisoner Has Told Enough To Prove He's Man Wanted

TAKEN AT TWIN ROCKS, PA.

Apprehension Follows 90-Day Search of Ora Slater, Cincinnati Detective

Canton, Oct. 25—Pat McDermott will talk before the day is ended.

This was the prediction this morning of Prosecutor C. R. McClintock, in charge of Stark County's investigation into the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher.

"McDermott has admitted that he knows these fellows," McClintock said, referring to Ben Rudner and Louis Mazer, jointly indicted for the murder with Pat and "Steve" Kasehoik, Nanty Glo, Pa., miner held in jail as a state's witness.

Grilling of Pat was scheduled to begin today after McClintock and Detective Ora Slater had completed their rest following their long auto journey through the rain from Johnstown, Pa., to Canton last night.

"Arrest Clinches Things"

McClintock predicted that the Mellett murder will be cleared up by Jan. 1, when he leaves office.

"Pat," he announced, "has told us enough to prove convincingy that he is the key man in the case. His arrest has clinched things and before we are through we will have the goods on everyone involved. I think Pat is going to talk freely before we are through with our examination.

"Pat didn't tell us anything about the actual murder, but his answers and his attitude prove conclusively that he knows about it and that he is only waiting for the proper time to talk.

He was surrendered by his relatives without any promises except that he will get a square deal but he is trying to get more assurance before he tells his story."

Urged to "Come Clean"

Pat apparently has been in close touch with Mazer and Rudner through some unknown source, McClintock said.

"Pat told us," he continued, "that Rudner's brother is running his hardware store in Massillon, a fact which we had not learned yet. Just now, we are much interested in learning who was keeping Pat in Cleveland and paying for the apartment where he hid himself and so successfully eluded police and others while the $10,000 reward hung over his head."

McDermott's relatives are urging him to "come clean". His brother, Bernard, who made the trip here from Pennsylvania yesterday, will represent him for the present. Bernard McDermott has used all his influence to have him talk and tell all he knows about the case, according to McClintock.

"There will be no hurry in arraigning Pat," McClintock said.

Rudner Is Hopeful

Rudner, in Stark County jail with McDermott, was hopeful today after he had learned of Pat's apprehension. Jailers said he was more cheerful than at any time since his arrest several weeks ago.

"When Pat talks", Rudner said, "Stark County will lose another boarder."

McDermott, who entered the jail last night almost in a state of collapse, relaxed during the night and was in fine spirits this morning. For the first time in three months, he slept with the knowledge that he was free from his pursuers, both officers of the law and members of the vice gang who might be interested in putting him out of the way. He is alone on the second floor of the jail, the other prisoners in this

Washington, Oct. 25—Members of the Osage Indian tribe, of Oklahoma, are subject to federal income tax on royalties and proceeds from mineral rights of the tribe, the United States Board of Tax Appeals ruled today.

The decision taps for federal tax purposes the great wealth of the Osage tribe, which has extensive holdings in gas and oil rights, unless an appeal to the federal courts reverses the judgment.

SPOTLIGHT ON RIVER CAMP IN DEATH OF GIRL

Beulah Purvis, 19, Believed To Have Gone to Notorious Rendezvous with Men

Cincinnati Oct. 25—While Louis Williams, negro, was being held for questioning in connection with the death of Beulah Purvis, 19 year old, "naked girl", of Lawrenceburg, Ind., coast authorities today turned the spotlight of their search on a "river camp" near Valley Junction, Ohio

The river camp, widely-known as a rendezvous for midnight orgies, is where Miss Purvis was believed to have gone on Sunday night, Oct. 7—three days before her mutilated body was found—with two young men

Later she was said by county authorities to have left the camp with four young men from Hamilton, Ohio

Learn of Auto

In this connection, officers also were trying to establish the identity of an automobile seen underneath a bridge on the Valley Junction-Elizabethtown road early last Monday morning. The spotlight of the auto was being played upon the muddy water, authorities declared a witness told them.

The negro being held for questioning was arrested by Deputy Sheriff James Loos, of Harrison, after he was said to have made conflicting statements regarding alleged appearances at Valley Junction recently.

Another bit of evidence, included in the countless tips pouring into the offices of the investigators was obtained yesterday from R. S. Duckworth, telegraph operator of the Baltimore & Ohio Railway at Valley Junction. Duckworth told officers that he "heard a woman scream—then the sound was suddenly muffled." He said it came from the traction about 150 feet away.

"That was one night early last week" he added.

Funeral services for Dr. John Donnelly, Columbus physician, who died suddenly of heart failure, Thursday night, were held at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Columbus. Interment was made in a cemetery in that city.

Dr. Donnelly was stricken in his auto while enroute to Grove City, and died in the office of Dr. Wright, Grove City, shortly after the attack. He was 55 years of age and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nelson Dugan Donnelly, two daughters, Dorothy and Margaret, and two sons, John and Frank Donnelly, all of Columbus. Dr Donnelly was a brother-in-law of Mrs Martin J. Burke, 398 E. Church st, and was well known here.

HOUDINI GIVES SHOW DESPITE APPENDICITIS

Famous Magician In Hospital at Detroit; Operation Is Imperative

Detroit, Oct. 25—Harry Houdini, world known magician, was taken to Grace Hospital today for an operation for acute appendicitis Houdini appeared at a local theater last night despite considerable pain and a temperature of 104.

He is the second entertainer to go to a hospital here within a month Frank Tinney, comedian, has been confined to a hospital here for more than three weeks. His condition, however, is improving.

Houdini arrived here Sunday afternoon. He had wired ahead to have a doctor meet him. Dr. Leo Dretzka diagonsed the magician's illness as acute appendicitis.

Because there was a packed house, Houdini insisted on going on. Today he was in so critical condition that an immediate operation was held to be imperative.

STUDENTS TO FACE COURT

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct 25 — Four University of Michigan students arrested in a riot with police following a pre Illinois game "pep" rally will face court today on charges of disorderly conduct. They were taken into custody when police hurled tear gas bombs to disperse several hundred students who harrassed patrolmen and stoned police headquarters. All four are from Michigan.

Erie Better Bull Special Made up in Marion Yards Starts Tour of Ohio Today

Special Train Made Up of Four Express Cars, Loaded with Registered Dairy Bulls, Begins Journey Through Northern Ohio

Four cars of registered bulls for the "Better Bull Special" of the Erie Railroad, arrived in Marion Saturday from Akron, Mansfield, Kent, and Youngstown.

The Better Bull Special, made up in the local Erie yards began its journey through Western Ohio this morning, arriving at Wren for exhibition at 9:30 a. m.

The special train was made up of four express cars loaded with registered dairy bulls, one car fitted up with a feeding and breeding exhibit by Ohio State University, a car for free motion pictures and lectures and a flat car for out-of-door pictures and lectures.

The train is being operated over the Erie in co-operation with Ohio State University, the four state and national dairy breeders association, county agricultural agents, business men, and other interested organization.

Showing Here Oct. 30

Although the train is being made up and arranged in the local yards, the regular showing and exhibit in this city will not be until Saturday, Oct. 30.

H. H. Berringer of Prospect, Francis Warner and Harvey Zachman, were appointed some time ago to make arrangements for the stop in this city. T. M. Palmer, agricultural agent of the Erie Railroad, is in charge of the scheduling of the special.

The cities to be visited by the Erie Better Bull Special on successive days are Wren, Ohio City, Spencerville, Ajger, Galion, Marion, Richwood, North Lewisburg, Urbana, and Dayton.

In Dayton Nov. 4

The train will arrive in Dayton, Thursday, Nov. 4. That city will be the last station visited by the special and its display.

A regular program for each day has been arranged. Each morning the cars will be open for inspection. In the afternoon representatives of the Erie Railroad will explain the purpose of the Better Bull Special and representatives of Ohio State University will lecture. Motion pictures on dairy topics are the feature of the night program.

Pay Boosted

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. has announced that it has acceded to the demands of its shopcrafts for an advance of three cents an hour in their pay and will grant the increase, effective Oct. 16, to more than 43,000 mechanics, helpers and apprentices.

The raise will total $3,219,840 annually and will bring the men up to a 76-cents-an-hour basis, the same as that paid by the New York Central, which granted an increase effective Sept. 1.

It was not known today whether or not the increase would effect car men in the employ of the Pennsylvania in the vicinity of Marion.

The advances to the shopcrafts are the first increase in pay that the men have received since the early part of 1923.

Damage Suit

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. has been sued for $35,000 for injuries to employes in two suits filed in Franklin County Common Pleas Court. John E. Tebo, boilershop helper, asks $20,000 for a crushed left foot, sustained April 13, and John E. Morrell, machinists helper, asks $15,000 for a mashed finger, sustained May 12.

Goes To Athens

"Bill" Drake, Erie telegraph operator, is in Athens, O., witnessed the football game between Ohio University and Cincinnati. Bill's son, Paul "Ducky" Drake, who was employed on the Erie Railroad during the summer months, is a sophomore at Athens.

Returns Home

L. E. Nebergall, ticket agent at the local Union Station, has returned from Los Angeles and other cities in California where he has been attending various meetings of ticket agents.

Returns From Vacation

Charles Price, second trick train caller at the Union Station, has returned from a vacation during which he visited friends and relatives in South Carolina.

Rail Briefs

O. L. Enos, division passenger agent, Erie Railroad, Kent Division, was in Marion Friday.

J. E. Staunton, car demurage inspector of the Erie Railroad, from Huntington, Ind., was a visitor in the local Erie freight house Friday.

Get Invitations

Local men who have been in the employ of the Hocking Valley Railroad Co. for 25 years or more have received invitations to attend the first annual reunion of the Hocking Valley Veteran Employes' Association, to be held in Columbus, Saturday, Nov. 6.

The exact number of veterans at work in the Marion offices and yards is not yet known but many have already announced their intentions of attending the first reunion.

The Hocking Valley Veteran Employes' Association will be definitely organized at the meeting in Columbus, according to announcement made here. All men who have been employed by the company for 25 years or more are eligible to become charter members at the reunion.

A veterans' association was organized a few weeks ago among local employes of the Erie Railroad who had been in service for 20 years or more. This organization, however, was confined among men in the Marion offices and yards alone, local veterans forming a complete unit in a group of similar organizations in other cities through which the Erie operates.

No single Marion Hocking Valley Veteran Employes' Association will be formed but all who have been in service the required period of years become members of the association which will be composed of men from all Hocking Valley divisions.

Football Special

A special train carrying the Iowa University football team and rooters on the homeward journey from Columbus, following the Iowa-Ohio State game Saturday, operated through Marion over the Hocking Valley Railroad early Sunday morning.

It may be a moot question with an office-holder whether he was elected because he has liked or because the other candidate was disliked.

MARION MAN TO TEACH IN MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

Charles Oborn, 244 Windsor-St, Ohio State Graduate, Accepts Position

Charles Oborn, 244 Windsor-st, graduate of the College of Architecture of Ohio State University, has accepted a position as instructor in the department of architecture at Minnesota University, it was learned here today.

Donald Health, also a professor, will retain his position as instructor in the same department as the enrollment of 120 freshmen architects and 80 sophomores necessitated an increase in the teaching facilities.

TWO DANCE HALLS HOLD MASQUERADES

White Maple and Crystal Lake Scenes of Halloween Parties

Marion's two most popular dance pavilions were scenes of gala events Friday night.

White Maple's masquerade party was attended by 175 couples, many from neighboring cities, who competed for the list of cash prizes which totaled $25. Music was played by the Buckeye Melody Boys.

The Hard Time Hallowe'en party at Crystal Lake pavilion was attended by 160 couples who enjoyed the dance program to music furnished by Ruth's Syncopators, a nine-piece orchestra from Marion. Crystal Lake's party Friday night was one of the cleverest held this month. Many attended from a distance.

Manager L. F. Schuler announced today that Friday's masquerade was the last of a series of dances held this summer and fall at White Maple.

No more unsightly Pimples!

S.S.S. gives you a clear skin

WHAT a delightful sensation to look in your mirror and find your face free from pimples, blackheads, blotches and other skin blemishes. Isn't it wonderful to see your face radiant with red blooded health!

Pure, red blood is what it takes to have a lovely skin. Facial blemishes can't be covered up successfully. Nor will anything else drive away these unsightly pimples and such, but the cleansing of the blood and the adding of rich, red blood.

And that's what S. S. S. does. All those objectionable blemishes will vanish and your skin will become soft and clear. S. S. S. has been such an aid for generations.

Everybody is attracted to the girl with a rosy, healthy coloring—the girl with the soft, velvet like skin—a skin so lovely that it tells of boundless health and vitality. There is no excuse for disgusting eruptions on the skin. We know they can be driven away quickly with a powerful blood alterative such as S. S. S. has proven to be for 100 years. Start taking S. S. S. today. And get the larger size bottle. It's more economical.

EIGHT MARION SCOUTS SEE IOWA-STATE GAME

Scout Executive W. C. Breed and a scout party of eight were guests of the Harding Area Council Boy Scouts of America attending the Ohio-Iowa football game Saturday. The party left the Y. M. C. A. at 10 a. m. and returned after having dinner at Columbus as guests of Scout Executive Perry A. Lane, of the Capitol City.

Scouts attending the game were Robert Arden Henry Dorsey, Robert Bush, Carl Cudd Fred M. Hartman, George Gloss, Earl Hoffman and Arthur Schwinfurth.

While in Columbus the Scouts visited Patrol Leader Richard Leslie who is recovering from a serious operation in Grant Hospital. Patrol Leader Leslie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Leslie, 325 Summit st.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. —Adv

Four Marion County properties were sold at 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, Sheriff James A. Deal to satisfy delinquent tax claims.

One property in Agosta, owned by Minnie Brandenburg, was sold for $75 to A. D. Davis of that village.

Two premises of Forest Landgrable of LaRue, were sold to Manuel O'Brien of that village. The lot sold for $30.

The property of Catherine Carter of LaRue was sold for $80 to Dean Hinkle of LaRue.

The last property offered for sale owned by C. P. Johnson of LaRue, was purchased by E. J. Bryant for $44.

Answers Petition

Charging her husband with cruelty and neglect and asking alimony, Mrs. Mabel Williams of Green Camp Township today filed an answer in Common Pleas Court to the divorce petition of her husband, Ralph M. Williams. The two were married Nov. 12, 1919, and have one child.

Mrs. Williams asserts that on many occasions her husband has struck and assaulted her. On one occasion, she says, he threatened to cut her throat with a knife which he held in his hand, while at another time he threatened to kill her with a shotgun.

Mrs. Williams asks custody of the minor child and requests alimony.

Answers Suit

Wallace W. Crizer, Herman-av, today filed answer in Common Pleas Court to the $42.50 suit of Dr. Dana C. Weeks.

Dr. Weeks received judgment in Justice M. O. Stoll's court against Crizer for $42.40, claimed due for medical services given his wife, Marjorie Crizer. The case was appealed.

In his answer, Crizer asserts that his wife left him Nov. 11, 1925, and that he received a divorce from her Apr. 21, 1926. He asks that the petition against him be dismissed.

Seeks Judgment

Asking judgment for $943.68 against Jasper J. Graham of this city, Emma Tuttle of Marion, today filed an answer to the foreclosure suit of the Citizens Building & Loan Co. against Graham and others.

Mrs. Tuttle claims the amount due on a promissory note delivered to her by Mr. and Mrs. Jasper J. Graham.

Get Licenses

Three marriage licenses were issued by Probate Judge L. B. McNeal late Saturday and early today. Those receiving licenses are:

Vernie V. Richard, 26, Lodi, O., son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Richard, and Miss Viola M. Eibling, 21, Charles-st, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Eibling.

Dan Williams, 32, Kenton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, and Miss Martha Willmeth, 17, LaRue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Willmeth.

Carl Holcomb, 21, Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holcomb, and Miss Thelma Van Buskirk, 21, Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carey Van Buskirk.

HEART TROUBLE CAUSE OF L. L. JONES' DEATH

Funeral Services To Be Held Tuesday at Waldo M. E. Church

Lawrence L. Jones, 50, died at his home, 849 Bennett-st, at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. His death followed a several days illness of heart trouble.

Mr. Jones was born June 28, 1876 in Morton, the son of Margaret Baker and Lafayette Jones, who was originally of south of Waldo. He was a Spanish American War Veteran and a member of the Eagles Lodge.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anna B. Jones, five children, and one sister, Mrs. William Davis of Lewis Center, O. His parents preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the M. E. Church at Waldo, in charge of Rev. J. A. Low, pastor of the church. Burial will be made in the Waldo Cemetery.

AIMEE'S ATTORNEYS WILL CALL FORTY WITNESSES

Los Angeles, Oct. 25—A parade of forty witnesses was scheduled to be called today as the Aimee Semple McPherson conspiracy case got under way. An hour was set aside for the preliminary hearing of Mrs. McPherson, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and Mrs. Lorraine Wood-Sielaff was not expected after defense attorneys announced that some forty witnesses would be placed on the stand before the hearing closed.

The state is attempting to prove that the woman evangelist has never been married, as she claims, but had spent part of the time she was missing with her former radio operator, Kenneth G. Ormiston.

count in both the gubernatorial and senatorial contests in Marion County, candidates for local offices are facing the necessity of vigorous and aggressive personal campaigning. They view the situation in regard to county offices as a case of "every man for himself" and are not depending on being carried through to victory by the head of the ticket.

Because of the important state issues involved and the fact that all county and various district offices are to be filled in the election Nov. 2, a total vote larger than the average is expected in Marion County. This is indicated by the large number of absent ballots now being cast at the board of elections office.

Judicial Contests

Unusual interest is centered in two judicial contests in Marion County, one for Common Pleas judge and one for the selection of a magistrate to preside over the city's new municipal court which will begin functioning Jan. 1, next. Because of the fact that this feature of the election is non-partisan and the names of the candidates will appear on a separate ballot carrying no party symbols, forecasts of the outcome are especially difficult. There are five candidates for common pleas judge and four for municipal judge.

The county party rallies scheduled for this week, which are expected to be attended by all candidates for local offices, are as follows:

Republicans: LaRue, Oct. 25, with W. H. Freeman of Ada, a member of Ohio Northern University faculty; James R. Hopley of Bucyrus, nominee for congress, and Robert L. Rohe of Tiffin, candidate for state senator as speakers. Martel, Oct. 27 with addresses by Mr. Hopley and former Common Pleas Judge Grant E. Mouser. Caledonia, Oct. 29, with Mr. Hopley and Mrs. J. H. Stevenson, prominent Republican women's leader of Hardin County, as speakers.

Innovation

The Democrats are trying out an innovation in political rallies in their county meetings this week by substituting social programs for the customary speech-making. The only addresses will be brief and informal talks by candidates for county offices and party organizations leaders. Each meeting will be concluded with a social session featured by the serving of lunch, consisting of cider, coffee and sandwiches. The Democratic rallies will be at LaRue, Oct. 26; Caledonia, Oct. 28, and Waldo, Oct. 29.

Prominent Marion County Republicans are also expected to be in service this week at various places throughout the state as speakers at party rallies. Two of them, former Common Pleas Judge Grant E. Mouser and Fred W. Warner, chairman of the State Central Committee, gave addresses at meetings during the week-end. Mr. Mouser spoke Friday night at Evanston, a suburb of Cincinnati and Saturday at Price Hill, Cincinnati, while Mr. Warner addressed a gathering at Van Wert Saturday night.

the trousers' pockets, awakening Mrs. Tobin.

Drops Trousers

In fleeing from the Tobin home, Obenour dropped the two pairs of trousers, which were later found by the officers. He was easily trailed from the footprints let by heavy rubber boots worn by him.

Entrance to the Tobin home was easily effected, the front door having been left unlocked, Obenour states in his confession. He gained access to the Berry residence by using a wire to unfasten the catch on a screen door, the house door not being locked. At the Berry home he made away with a pair of trousers, contents, consisting of a watch and 60 cents. Two sweaters were taken at the Born residence.

"Used Flashlight"

A flashlight found in Obenour's possession was used in exploring the homes that he entered, according to his confession.

Obenour is a former yard employe of the Erie Railroad Co. but recently has been working at Kelley's Island, near Sandusky, he states.

section having been transferred to the first floor. He has a large light cell with a comfortable cot, plenty of blankets, a table, chair and wash stand.

"Feeling Better"

When the jailor called him for breakfast Monday morning, there was no response. Three calls went unanswered. With some alarm for the safety of the prisoner, the jailor unlocked the outer door and went in and rattled the door to his cell. Finally there was a stir from under the blankets and Pat turned a sleepy face toward the door.

Then he smiled broadly.

"I'm feeling better than I have felt in a long time" he said in response to the turnkey's query.

He arose and dressed and ate his breakfast with evidence of a hearty appetite. Then he cleaned up his cell, made the bed and sat down to wait for the session with Prosecutor McClintock which may prove an eventful episode in the case.

McDermott was in county jail today following a nation-wide search for him lasting 90 days. He was surrendered yesterday at Twin Rocks, Pa., by his two brothers, as the result of a carefully laid plan prepared by Slater. It is believed that the famous Cincinnati detective and the prosecutor, in a four-hour conference with McDermott's brothers, preceding his surrender, made an agreement not to seek the death penalty for McDermott, provided he would testify against Louis Mazer and Ben Rudner, the other two men under indictment for the murder.

Statements by his borthers that they would furnish funds to finance Pat's defense and a promise exacted by them from Slater to give Pat a "square deal" were regarded as certain indications here that some sort of deal had been entered into whereby McDermott will "tell all he knows" about the killing of McLett.

Lived in Cleveland

McDermott, it was learned today, spent most of the time since the nationwide search was inaugurated for him, when Mellett was slain, living in an apartment in Cleveland. He did not work, but maintained a servant and an automobile, it is said, and apparently was well supplied with funds.

He was lured into custody by means of a message sent to him by his brothers to the effect that his aged mother, who is ill, wanted to see him. That McDermott was in "on" on the plan of members of his family to "turn him up" was indicated by his greeting to the officers, when they were brought into his presence at Twin Rocks.

"You've double-crossed me, shouted McDermott to his brothers.

Mellett Shot July 16

Slater and McClintock, although they would disclose no details of information already revealed to them during the long auto ride from Twin Rocks to Canton yesterday by McDermott or of facts they expected to elicit from him during a grilling today, expressed the confident belief that a full revelation of all angles of the plot to assassinate Mellett as a result of his campaign against Canton's vice ring would come to light.

Don R. Mellett, 32, was shot early on the morning of July 16 by gunmen as he was putting his auto in the garage at his home in Canton. During the two years he had been publisher of the Canton News, he had waged an unrelenting campaign against the operations of an alleged vice ring in the city and had been several times threatened by denizens of "jungle," the underworld district.

POLICE BELIEVE ARREST WILL STOP ROBBERIES

Alfred Kelly, 20, S. Prospect-st, Nabbed in Act of Pilfering Auto, Claim

Arrest of Alfred Kelly, 20, of 595 S. Prospect-st, on the charge of stealing groceries from an automobile parked on the city lot at Prospect and Church-sts. Saturday night, will bring to a close of the series of thefts that have been in progress there for several weeks, local police believe.

Kelly was captured shortly before 10 o'clock as he was in the act of carrying away merchandise from a car, officers state, and following his arrest is said to have confessed committing several thefts of the same kind during the last few weeks.

Following receipt of reports of pilfering at the city lot police maintained a watch which finally resulted in the apprehension of Kelly.

Harold Keener, a farmer living south of the city, was Kelly's last victim, groceries valued at $2 having been stolen from the Keener automobile only about an hour before the youth was taken into custody.

Practically all of the goods reported stolen during the last few weeks were taken from farmers automobiles, police state.

Kelly is held at the city prison awaiting arraignment before Mayor Hazen.

RULES PRESIDENT CAN OUST FEDERAL OFFICIAL

Senate's Consent Not Needed, Opinion of Supreme Court Declares

Washington, Oct. 25—The power of the president to remove a federal officer without the consent of the senate was sustained by the Supreme Court today, thus ending a dispute as to constitutional rights that has waged between the legislative and executive branches of the government for half a century.

The decision was handed down in the case of Frank S. Myers, now deceased, former postmaster at Portland, Oregon.

Myers was appointed by President Wilson in 1917 and removed from office three years later, without the consent of the senate. Because his appointment had to be confirmed by the senate, his heirs contended in a suit for back pay, that his removal without the senate's consent was not constitutional.

Chief Justice Taft delivered the opinion.

BIDS ARE RECEIVED HERE FOR HARDING MEMORIAL

"DUSTY" MILLER SPEAKS AT KIWANIS LUNCHEON

General Electric Representative Also Addresses Club at Weekly Session

Kiwanians at their weekly luncheon today at Harding Hotel, enjoyed a 30 minute visit with Therman "Dusty" Miller, humorist and editor of The News-Journal at Wilmington, following the introduction of Engineer Charles M. Ripley of the General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Other guests were Edwin Dee of Bucyrus and former resident of Marion, and Edward Paque, Cincinnati.

President C. B. King introduced Ruth's Syncopators orchestra and as usual their most appropriate numbers were enthusiastically received by the 51 guests, a number of whom have heard the orchestra at Crystal Lake pavilion where they have been playing this season.

"While in Europe recently I traveled 2,500 miles by the air route much cheaper than I did 800 miles by rail," declared General Electric Engineer Ripley in his two minute introductory talk in which he explained that America's progress is the direct result of unlimited power controlled electricity.

The speaker of the day, "Dusty" Miller as he is known best, kept the guests busy with his "Daily Dozen" after which he advised each and everyone to adopt a daily dozen most suited to his personality and station in life.

"At the very least, plan to live each day as the last," concluded the speaker.

TWO LIVES LOST WHEN BOAT SINKS IN TORNADO

Tarrytown, N. Y., Oct. 25—Caught in the tornado gale which swept across the Tappan Zee, the freight steamer G. F. Rardy capsized and sank in the Hudson River near here today, with the loss of two lives.

The dead: Charles Hayes, fireman; Mrs. Catherline Demond, cook; Thomas H. Kelly, chief engineer, is in a hospital with burns and suffering from immersion.

STEUBENVILLE MAN SLAIN

Tiltonville, Oct. 25—John Checco, Steubenville, was fatally shot at the home of his father-in-law, Angelo Calzuso, here early today, when, according to Checco's wife and her mother, he came home intoxicated and threatened to kill them. Calzuso is held in jail. Checco died enroute to a Martins Ferry hospital.

$100,000 IN DIAMONDS STOLEN FROM TRUNK

Baggage Checks Switched and Gems Taken from Salesman in Toledo Hotel

Toledo, Oct. 25—A trunk containing $100,000 worth of diamonds was ransacked of its contents here early this morning by three thieves, according to the owner, Jack Kloville, a diamond broker of New York City.

Kloville had checked the trunk at Buffalo yesterday for Toledo, he claims. When he called at the Union Station baggage room for it, he was informed that it had disappeared. Later the management of the hotel where Kloville was stopping found the empty trunk in one of its rooms. This room had been assigned to "John Jones, Harry Carl and George Jones, of Duluth". They had fled.

Police say that the thieves had trailed Kloville and had switched baggage checks in such a manner as to give them possession of it.

Kloville, who is connected with the firm of Kloville Brothers, 195 Broadway, declared the gems were insured.

BELGIAN STEAMER SINKS FOLLOWING EXPLOSION

Bordeaux, Oct. 25—The Belgian steamer, Caledonier, which left Bordeaux Oct. 12 for Hampton Roads, is reported to have sunk off Portugal following an explosion in her hold. The report, as yet unconfirmed, indicates that the crew of forty-one was lost.

The Caledonier is owned by Lloyd Royal Belge Societe and is a vessel of 5,161 tons.

Daily Proverb—"He can not love me both for a friend and a flatterer."

Here we have squaw winter, at last. Now for that delightful era on of the year we know a Indian summer!

The deer botfly, found in both North and South America, is able to travel 815 miles an hour. Its other name must be "rumor."

A writer says Americans are called "swine" in France, "Shylocks" in England and "hypocrites" in Belgium. There is nothing like the bitterness of envy.

There's this to be said for campaigning by radio, it puts out of business the dread offensive of the campaign cigar.

A full coal bin gives a lot of satisfaction, despite the depressing thought of what may be the feelings of the gentlemanly coal dealer awaiting his pay.

Still the person who has killed over 75,000 goldfish in London by placing arsenic in their tanks is many stages above the pervert who places poison in print to corrupt the young.

The British aviator who flew from London to Australia and return is no exception to the rule. Of course, you've guessed it. He's coming over "to lecture."

It's worth noting that the people who are being held up in New York City are not those asleep in bed in their homes, but chiefly the patrons of the night clubs, and the more than ordinarily off-color night clubs, at that.

Unless King Ferdinand is the exceptional husband, when Marie gets home from her vacation she's going to find the kitchen sink all cluttered up with unwashed dishes.

It would be no more than fair for H. G. Wells to admit that we Americans have other characteristics in addition to our desire to talk about ourselves, if for no other reason than to obviate the possibility that he may be taken for one of us.

"And when a reformer goes to heaven," asks the Dallas News, "what does he do with his time?" Intimating that there are reformers in heaven is our idea of doing no good for the great cause.

If Marie is taking her almost priceless jewels about the country with her, let us hope that a bunch of "devil dogs" will be assigned to duty on her train. It would be a mighty poor advertisement for the United States to have a visiting queen held up and robbed by bandits.

While there may be no office which he "wants less than that of president of the United States," of course it's understood that the Hon. William G. McAdoo wouldn't be so obdurate as to turn even a presidential nomination down were it offered him by a united Democracy.

The Atchison Globe says "the automobile has succeeded the hammock as a place for proposals, but without increasing the per cent. of marriages that result." Sure not. The hammock was somewhat slow and a trifle squeaky, but it was in a class by itself as an accessory of little Dan Cupid and his trusty little bow and arrow.

Seventy Years, the General Limit.

Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of Rochester, Minnesota, the noted American surgeon, is not in sympathy with the repeatedly expressed view that science and medicine can go on almost indefinitely adding to the span of life. In another 100 years, he said in a recent interview, the majority of human-beings may live to be seventy, but that is the maximum average we can hope to reach.

The doctor pointed out that, since 1851, scientific and medical discoveries had made it possible to curb epidemics, such as those of smallpox and typhoid fever, and that in those seventy-five years the average span of life has been increased from forty years to fifty-eight. But that two years more were about all that medicine could be expected to add.

The possible extra ten years, to the doctor's way of thinking, are dependant upon the individual himself and can be realized only through the careful preservation of his physical condition.

Dr. Mayo gets away from the view we have seen rather generally held out in recent years as a result of his conviction that while science and medicine are learning to combat the diseases known to us now, new ones will develop. As the late Luther Burbank caused flowers to produce new species, so will disease germs now unknown spring from those at present known. These new disease germs will confront science just as science has been confronted by present known germs in the past and before they are controlled they will exact an awful toll of human life.

It is not for the layman to decide which scientific view may be the correct one, but this may be said for that of the eminent Minnesota surgeon; it is more in accord with man's long-time conception of the span of life and clinging as it does to the allotted three score years and ten.

The Queen's Train.

Since the beginning of time, mortal never traveled as will Queen Marie, of Roumania, during her visit in the country. The train in which she is making her transcontinental trip is one of the most beautiful and elaborate that ever traveled the rails, and the conveniences and homy features of it surpass any touring train ever run.

The ten-car train consists of a baggage car, a combination baggage car and coach, three Pullman keepers, the private car of President Daniel Willard, of the Baltimore & Ohio; the Baltimore & Ohio dining car, "Martha Washington;" the private car, "Copper River," the private car, "Yellowstone," of Chairman Howard Elliott, of the Northern Pacific board of directors and the observation-salon car used on the North Coast Limited, the crack Northern Pacific train running from Chicago to Seattle.

Queen Marie is traveling in the "Yellowstone," not in a mere compartment, but in a homelike bed-room, which has in addition to a large brass bed placed crosswise of the car, a table, a bureau and chairs. Dainty cretonne curtains shade the windows. Next to this is a private bath-room with marble and porcelain fittings and a shower bath. Beyond this is another chamber identical with that of the queen, which is occupied by the Princess Ileana. The three rooms are connected, forming a suite, and nearby is an office with an old fashioned bookcase-desk of Circassian walnut, where Queen Marie will do her writing enroute. At one end of the car is a drawing room with lounges and easy chairs and the other is occupied as a dining-room with a mahogany table seating six, a carved wood cabinet for silver and china and a kitchen.

The observation car at the end of the train, which serves Queen Marie as a reception room, is a roomy salon almost completely glass-enclosed to afford an excellent view of the scenery enroute. It is equipped with a powerful searchlight upon its roof by means of which to view the western scenery as the train sweeps on in the night season. This car is supplied with the latest magazines and papers obtainable, and also is equipped with a ladies' lounge, two card-rooms, a barber shop and a small soda fountain.

Queen Marie is familiar with manifestations of luxury in European capitals; she has traveled in trains de luxe in continental Europe and in the British isles, but never has she met with such comfort and convenience in rail travel as will be at her command in traveling over the great rail lines of this country and Canada. And in all the Old world there is no beauty and grandeur in a scenic way to be beheld on a railroad journey such as will greet her before she returns again to the Atlantic seacoast. The scenic treats she will behold are worthy of more than a queen; they are worthy of the brainy and mentally-alert, high-minded, big-souled woman she has shown herself to be.

China is making progress in the art of destruction. Twenty thousand were killed in a recent series of battles. If she keeps on at that rate, it won't be long till she is recognized as a civilized, Christian nation.

An Albany statistician figures that the annual theft of farm products by autoists in New York state was reduced to $250,000 last year from $1,000,000 the year before, but he doesn't state whether the Empire state farmers erected higher fences, bought more shotguns or secured bigger packs of dogs.

We've never had any experience at queening, but it hardly looks ethical to us for the Roumanian queen to crowd out of the rays of the spot-light, as she has, the French queen of the net.

If Queen Marie wants to cut out the big trees of California, and Los Angeles and her Hollywood, that's all right, but it's hard to understand how she can afford to pass up a point of such great national interest as Carmel-by-the-Sea.

We are told that it takes all kinds of people to make up a world, but it's a pity there aren't more of the good sense and appreciation of the everlasting fitness of things like that Columbus woman who put the quietus on that W. C. T. U. proposed resolution in condemnation of the use of cigarets by our royal visitor.

Vagrant Verse.

MIRANDA.

She listened to the click
Of the front picket gate
John would close it slowly
It would blame it it were Nate.

She pinned an oleander flower
In her hair . . .
Nate would like the sofa—
John would like a chair.

She looked at a portrait
That hung above the organ
And met the eyes
Of her Grandfather Morgan.

A horse's hoof beats
Slowed at the gate . . .
She wished it wouldn't have to be
John or Nate.

She glanced at the spareness
Of her grandsire's chin
And wished she wouldn't have to say
"Please step in."

Miranda understood
What each one would do—
What each one would talk about
With each one knew.

John would still be planning
To clear the southeast half—
Nate would low he'd maybe
Sell a heifer calf.

The gate didn't clang
She tired of waiting—
Only a night bird
Sang at mating.

She walked across the patch
And out to the meadow
Where she heard her name whispered,
"Miranda—Miranda—"

* * * * *

The gate stood open—
There was only the sound
Of a tall pulled hoof-prints
On distant ground . . .

Neighbors often wondered
Where she now "moved"
[illegible]
Who would stay [illegible]

ADAM'S APPLE

Pitfalls in Feeding Babies.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Blessed is the child whose mother is willing to give her baby the tremendous benefits of breast feeding. To nurse the baby requires many sacrifices on the mother's part. But the infant will do so much better and be so much safer that it is well worth while to make the sacrifices.

I am glad to say there are few mothers who are unwilling to render this service. As a matter of fact, most mothers who are required for health's sake not to nurse their babies, mourn over the lost privilege.

It is interesting to observe that the appearance of the mother is deceptive. A little bit of a woman, fragile and weak apparently, may supply her infant with an abundance of rich milk. On the contrary, a great, big, athletic woman may have little if any food for the baby.

There are many pitfalls in infant feeding when dependence must be placed on the bottle. Unless the cow's milk is uncontaminated and properly prepared, it may give illness instead of nourishment. There can never be found a perfect substitute for mother's milk. But if the child does not prosper there is nothing to do but to resort to artificial feeding.

The child itself is the surest index of its physical welfare. Unfailing gain in weight is the first sign of well-being. During the first six months of life the baby should gain six to eight ounces every week. After the age of six months the gain will not be so much, but it should be from three to six ounces every week.

A normal child falls asleep while feeding, or as soon as the meal is finished. Most of the time is spent in sleep. During the first six months it is safe to say that twenty out of the twenty-four hours the baby will be asleep.

Wakefulness and frequent crying are bad signs. A perfectly healthy child is not likely to cry more than an hour a day. Don't worry if the baby cries a few times every day. But if the time spent in this noisy occupation is more than an hour in the twenty-four, it is probable something is wrong.

When I say "something is wrong," I do not mean necessarily that there is something wrong with the baby. It may be with the parent. Sometimes a baby is fussed with so much or indulged so that bad temper results. But we will talk about that on another occasion.

When the crying is associated with unsuccessful breast feeding it is likely to be due to stomach and intestinal disturbance. In that case there may be diarrhea, gas formation and perhaps, vomiting.

When the mother's milk is insufficient or of inferior quality, there will be progressive loss of weight, or at least a failure to gain. Since not enough nourishment is supplied the child mourns and cries and frets.

Instead of dropping into a satisfied sleep the baby wails when taken from the breast. He cries much of the time. In fact, he is an unhappy little child.

Diarrhea and constipation are both signs of wrong feeding. Colic and vomiting are also noted.

It may be that attention to the health and feeding of the mother may improve the quantity and quality of the breast food. Every effort should be made in this direction. But if this improvement can not be accomplished it is probable the breast feeding must be given up and the bottle substituted.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

It is a pleasant thought that one of the things that Queen Marie, of Roumania, likes best in America is our flowers. There are plenty of foreign visitors who marvel at the stockyards and the United States Steel corporation. There are too few who see the flowers and love the things about America that are beautiful.

M. Lutsch, Austrian inventor, has made a pair of wings and a motor which may enable every man to do a bit of flying. It's a great idea. Wings won't make men and women angels—at least they won't make men angels. It's a step—or a flight—in the right direction. Our biggest job is to provide our own heaven by our own acts. Perhaps some day we shall even provide our own wings.

A Des Moines lawyer shot himself, at seventy-seven, because he said he had outlived his usefulness. What a sad and mistaken idea from so many points of view. In the first place, if he had looked around him he would have found some of the biggest work in the world being done by old men. At the head of some of the greatest industries of this country are men past seventy. Elihu Root, past eighty, is probably still the ablest lawyer in America. Gary, at eighty, is at the head of the Steel corporation. The list might be continued all day. But there is another and an even more appealing and important point of view. No man, however old, has outlived his usefulness when his presence in life is a source of satisfaction to his children. No woman, however old, has outlived her usefulness so long as she has children and friends who love her. Stevenson was right. No man is quite indispensable if he has a friend.

After all, we take our environment with us. No matter where you live you have to live with yourself. Going to Europe or the West Indies doesn't help a bit. You can't escape the man you are.

Evidently Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt doesn't think it is so important where home is. Arriving the other day from Europe she was asked if she intended living permanently in France. She said:

"Yes, for the next three years or so. But that means I'll be over here a lot of the time, too. You see, when I live over there I usually spend most of my time here, and when I live here I usually spend most of my time over there. I hope you follow me."

In England important official publications are known as "Blue" books. Similar publications are green in Italy and red in Spain, while volumes in yellow, white and gray are issued by France, Portugal and Japan respectively.

The Roumanian capital, Bucharest, is styled "The City of Enjoyment," from the fact that it is the residence during a part of the year of nearly all of the great land-owners of the country, and is noted for its gaiety. It has also been called "The Paris of the East," because of a certain resemblance to the French capital in its external appearance. There is much in Bucharest, however, which renders it unlike Paris or any other western city. The brightly colored costumes of the people, the Russian coachmen or sleigh drivers, and various other distinctive features lend to the city an unmistakable air of the East.

Q. Does Great Britain publish as many new books as the United States does? M. N.

A. This would vary with the years. The latest available figures are for 1924. In this year the United States published 6,380 new books while Great Britain published over 12,000. Fewer books have been published in America for the past few years than there were fifteen years ago, while 1924 was a record year for Great Britain.

Q. At one time were two umpires used for one match in baseball? D. M.

A. Prior to 1858 in ever match there were two umpires, one chosen by each club, and a referee. As the umpires in a majority of cases decided in favor of their own clubs the decision had ultimately to be left to the referee. At a convention of the clubs, held in New York City, in March, 1858, that plan was abolished and in its stead was adopted the system of having only one umpire.

New York Day by Day.

The subway offers subterranean adventures for a nickel that can not be dpulicated the world over. The roar, shriek of rail against rail and the flashing whirl of white tiled stations are only a part of the jaunt in this underground world of tension.

Moving million footed New York in sardine like chunks at several minute intervals is a marvel of efficiency attested by the fact the New York has never had "the great subway disaster" predicted so freely when the tubes were opened.

New York's amiability is highly in evidence as it drifts down through doors with football rushes. Feet are trampled, hats knocked off and clothing torn, but nobody seems to care.

"Watchya step!" and "Let 'em off first!" The sliding doors open and ten car trains gulp a load in a jiffy and thunder away. Old-timers despite the lurch and sway doze and awaken miraculously at their stations to fight they way out.

Others too tightly wedged to open their newspapers complacently read the sign jingles for soup, garters and malted drinks and, of course, The Subway Sun—that daily journal posted in the windows of each car.

In other days the greatest danger in subways was the pickpocket. Deft "leather fitters" found it a paradise. The crowd was so compact few noticed a tug at their purse. The shrewdest detectives were assigned to the tubes, but accomplished little until passengers took vengeance into their own hands. A pickpocket today knows that if caught he faces a serious pummeling which generally lands him in a hospital.

* * *

Being the victim of pickpockets is right up my street. It has happened to me four times in the metropolis quite painlessly. Twice in the subway, once while watching a safe hoisting and the last time I suspect by a benign gentleman next me in a theater who was constantly dropping his program for me to lean over and retrieve.

Somewhere I have heard there was never a successful fat pickpocket. Pudgy fingers lack nimbleness for a skillful "dip." And most "dips" are drug addicts.

There is that story of a host who employed a reformed pickpocket to pluck his guests of valuables at a dinner and then surprise them by returning his loot at the end of the evening. He surprised them — including his host — by slipping out a side door with the swag.

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS

A lot of folks came back from Europe with different ideas about what they saw over there, and most of the home folks will have to spend the rest of the winter listening to them. Well, I met some folks on the ship coming back that hadn't seen anything but politics, and there's so much of that to see at home that they were grouchy about spending so much money to go over and back. Others saw a lot of pictures, and once in a while you met one that had seen Europe.

Well, I heard about one guy that had a pretty good time. He was an automobile salesman from somewhere in Wisconsin, Madison, maybe it was. He got to talking to a real earnest school-teacher on the ship coming back, and she said to him, kinda enthusiastic:

"Oh, did you see the beauties of the Alps?"

"Yes, I seen 'em," he says.

"And can you express what you thought of them?"

"Well," he says, "to tell you the truth, I didn't think they could hold a candle to our beauties out in Wisconsin. They had their skirts too long, and they lacked class all around, I thought."

And I guess that school-teacher hasn't had somebody else to talk about beauty to.—Copyright, 1926.

FIFTY THOUSAND ARE HOMELESS AFTER QUAKES

Search of Ruins Hourly Increases Death Toll in Armenian Cities

Moscow, Oct. 25—Some of the American members of the Near East Relief commission in Leninkan, Armenia, are probably among those killed in Saturday's earthquake, according to the Moscow representative of the Trans-Caucasian republic. The building in which the relief commission was housed was wrecked, the representative said, and telegrams of the members remained unanswered today.

At least 50,000 are reported homeless in Armenia and search of the ruins in four Armenian cities is hourly increasing the list of dead, which is now estimated in excess of 3m0.

Some reports state that virtually every building within a radius of 100 miles of Leninkan has been ruined.

Many persons are believed to have been buried alive when they rushed into the streets after the first earthquake only to be crushed beneath the debris of houses which were toppled over by a second shock.

The soviet government has created a special relief commission and has appropriated $200,000 for relief work. Special relief trains and all available physicians have been rushed to the stricken country.

YOUTH FINED $10 FOR DRIVING UNLICENSED CAR

James Fogle, 22, of 612 E. Hudson-st, Columbus, was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Earl M. Hazen, Saturday afternoon, on a charge of operating an automobile without a license. Fogle's car was found on the street here last week carrying a tractor license plate from which part of the lettering had been removed to give it the appearance of a regulation automobile tag. Fogle's explanation was that he had lost his license plate. He was released after paying the fine and costs, amounting to $15.20 and promising to obtain the necessary credentials before resuming operation of his car.

YOUTH CHARGED WITH DRIVING INTOXICATED

Francis Suttler, 20, of 576 Wilson-av, is held at the city prison on the charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Suttler, it is alleged, drove his machine into the ditch along the Prospect-pk, near the south corporation line about 8 o'clock Sunday night and his arrest followed when police were summoned to the scene. The automobile upset and was badly damaged but Suttler escaped unhurt. He is scheduled for arraignment this afternoon before Mayor Earl M. Hazen.

Miss Arthur had been ill of influenza since last Monday. She was born in this city in January, 1908 and was a junior in Harding High School, a member of Moosehart Lodge and the Fitz Memorial Baptist Church. Her parents, and two brothers, Floyd and Russell, all at home, survive.

Burial was made in Marion Cemetery.

How to Gain 5 Pounds In 30 Days

If You Don't Do It, Get Your Money Back

Ask any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. They cost but little, are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy.

It's the new pleasant way to take nasty Cod Liver Oil and will not upset the most delicate stomach.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good, healthy, solid flesh, and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on 5 pounds or more in 30 days. Instantly! End Indigestion or Stomach Misery with "Pape's Diapepsin"

As soon as you eat a tablet or two of "Pape's Diapepsin" your indigestion is gone! Heavy pain, heartburn, flatulence, nausea, palpitation, or any misery from a sour, acid stomach ends. Correct your stomach and digestion for a few cents. Each package guaranteed by druggist.—Adv.

Are You "Toxic?"

Good Health Requires Good Elimination.

FUNCTIONAL inactivity of the kidneys permits retention of waste poisons in the blood. This is called a "toxic condition." Symptoms are a dull, languid feeling and often toxic headache, backache and dizziness. That the kidneys are not functioning as they should is sometimes shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Many people assist their kidneys in this condition by drinking plenty of pure water and the use of a stimulant diuretic. Doan's Pills have earned a country-wide reputation as a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Users everywhere endorse them. Ask your neighbor!

Fight Colds

One of the world's largest laboratories developed an ideal way to fight colds. It combines a number of important discoveries. It is so efficient, so complete that we paid $1,000,000 for it.

The best helps known are combined in one tablet. It does all that is needed. It checks the cold, stops the fever and headache, opens the bowels, eliminates the poisons and tones the entire system.

It acts quickly. The cold usually ends in a day. It rarely gets started, even, if one takes these tablets promptly.

This method is called HILL'S. Its use has grown and grown until millions now employ it. Don't rely on lesser help. A cold is too important. And don't delay. Things will be very different tomorrow if you start HILL'S now. You will keep them ever-ready after that.

Think of the confusion—

if advertised products followed this Soviet law

Recently the Soviet Government passed a law that anyone over 21 could change his name as often as he pleased. Old friends you have known for years as Smith, Brown and Green, might be called Orloski, Potoski and Obovitch overnight.

Think of the confusion!

Even suppose your favorite foods, drug sundries, furniture, automobiles and phonographs suddenly had their names changed! Would you not feel almost a stranger in a grocery, drug or dry-goods store that was stripped of the familiar faces of advertised products?

Like an old friend—you have confidence in the trustworthiness of an advertised product. Years of frank publicity have made its name a synonym for full value. You and thousands of other people are proving this value every day.

The well-known names of advertised products are your best guide to wise purchases. Read the advertisements to see when and where to get them.

Miss Viola Eibling and V. Richards Wed

The marriage of Miss Viola Eibling of this city and Vonie Richards of Lodi was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning by Dr. E. L. George, who read the double ring service at Epworth M. E. parsonage, E. Center-st. The bride was charming in a crepe frock in golden wheat shade with lace trimmings and accessories in a corresponding shade, and her flowers were an arm corsage of bride's roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Eibling, 150 Charles-st, for the immediate relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Richards left yesterday afternoon on a motor trip through the east and after Dec. 1 will be at home in their newly-furnished home, 706 Russell-st, Creston, O.

Mrs. Richards has been employed for the past three years in the office at the Commercial Steel Casting Co.'s plant. She is associated with several clubs and is active in the work at Epworth M. E. Church where she sang in the choir.

Mr. Richards is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Richards of Lodi and is employed with the Ohio Boxboard Co. at Creston.

REGULAR MEETING

Members of Job's Daughters held their regular meeting Saturday afternoon in Masonic Temple. They also held a practice for the play "The Road to the City," which they will present in the near future. The next stated meeting will be held Nov. 13 in the Temple.

LIFE'S SUNNY AFTERNOON

With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women of middle age say they owe their vigor and health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Those who have learned through their own experience the merit of this old reliable root and herb medicine are enthusiastic in recommending it to their friends and neighbors.—Adv.

Loveliest

Painter's brush or sculptor's chisel finds no lovelier model than the flawless beauty of American girls, like Miss Lucille Hixon, 1475 Grand Concourse Bronx, N. Y., who often poses for well-known artists. Her skin has that transparent delicacy of tone and texture which the true artist delights in, and which she declares she owes to using Black and White Lemon Beautifying Cream. "It's marvelous," she says, 'the way this delightful cream cleanses the pores of every impurity, whitens and softens my skin and keeps it looking its loveliest."

Black and White Lemon Beautifying Cream, made from a recipe handed down in a family of southern belles, is the newest of the famous Black and White Beauty Creations, whose high quality and low 50c and $1 prices make them popular with discriminating women everywhere.

If your dealer doesn't have the Black and White Beauty Creations you want, send his name to Plough, Dept. S, Memphis, Tenn., and you will receive free a copy of the Birthday and Dream Book, containing many interesting facts on beauty, dreams and fortune telling.

BLACK AND WHITE Beauty Creations OVER 15 MILLION USED A YEAR

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue headaches, a listless no-good feeling, all out of sorts inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.—Adv.

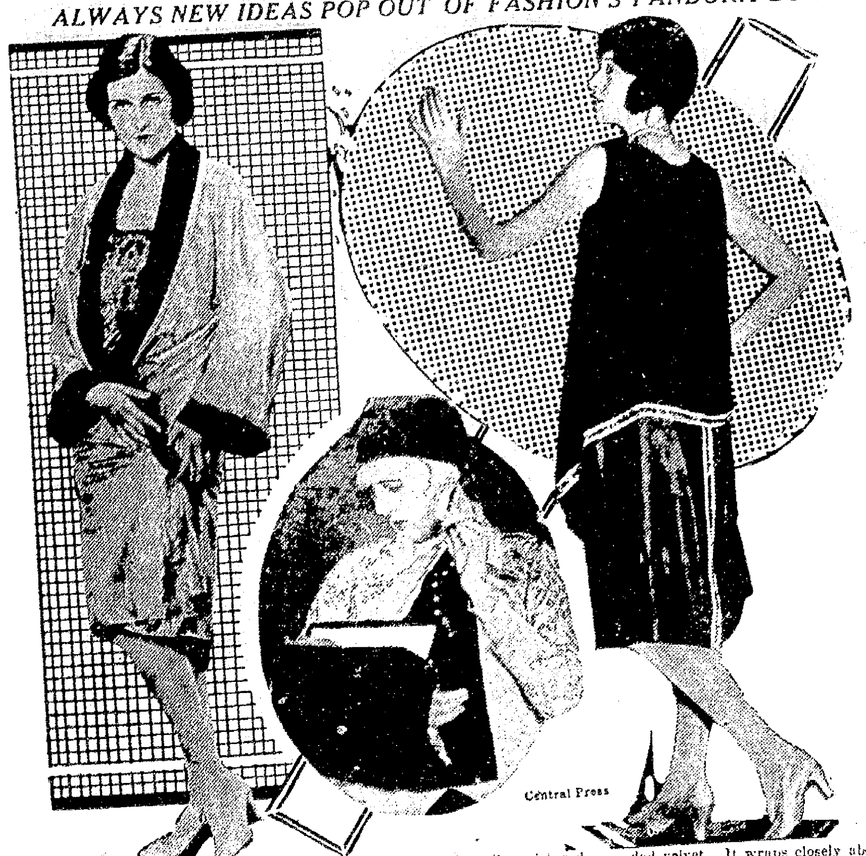
ALWAYS NEW IDEAS POP OUT OF FASHION'S PANDORA BOX



Central Press

ONE would surely think that in due course of time and nature Dame Fashion would run out of new ideas and leave us to wear our old clothes and carry our last year's accessories while she searched for more.

Nothing of the kind happens, however. She opens her Pandora box ever such a wee way, and a whole flock of new ideas issue forth for the new season. And, unlike the things that came out of Pandora's box of old, there are attractive and adaptable and help make the world a more cheerful place in which women may live.

One of the new ideas this season is anent, the muff-handbag pictured in the center above. It is a large bag of black velvet, the upper section—the bag—large enough to carry a complete set of toilet articles for an overnight trip. The lower part is a roomy muff to keep milady's hands warm. Both bag and muff are lined with silk. Milady may also have her monogram in silver on the outside of this novel accessory if she wishes. This whimsie, of course, comes from Paris.

Less novel but striking nevertheless, is the evening wrap (left). It is a Jenny model with wide sleeves and is constructed of crepe satin metal cloth lined with Bagdad velvet. It wraps closely about the hips.

Still another original idea produced the evening frock (right). Only a slender person would dare attempt this frock of Chinese red satin crepe trimmed with silver braid. A flowing jacket made on the reverse side of the material is worn over an underslip of the material used on the right side. The overblouse or jacket is cut with points running long in front, the bottom edged with silver braid. The skirt also has a slight dip toward the center of the back, with a line of braid running down to the edge of the hem.

"CASCARETS" FOR COSTIVE BOWELS, HEADACHE, COLDS

To-night! Clean your bowels and stop headache, colds, sour stomach

Get a 10-cent box now.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and bad colds—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Casaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels, or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Casaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.—Adv.

Guard Against "Flu" with Musterole.

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches rub on good old Musterole.

Musterole relieves the congestion and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Woman Evangelist Opens Revival at Fite Church

Rev Mrs. Eleanor Davis, wife of Rev. D. Henry Davis, pastor of the City Baptist Church at Tippecanoe City, yesterday opened revival services at the Fite Memorial Baptist Church with a rally day program.

Mrs. Davis, who is a forceful and pleasing speaker, will conduct the services at the church this week. She has had considerable experience as a Christian worker. She studied at Doane Academy, with musical study in the Denison University Conservatory at Granville, and later became a student of voice, piano and chorus work under well-known directors.

She began her evangelistic work as a home missionary in southern Ohio at the age of 14 years. She was ordained in the First Baptist Church at Sunbury, O., in April, 1925. She is at present studying with the Crozer Theological Seminary of Chester, Pa. She will speak every night during the revival services with the exception of next Saturday night.

Professor R. A. Garvin, principal of Vernon Heights Junior High School, was also a speaker at the rally day services yesterday. Professor Garvin discussed the meaning of the word "rally" during the Bible School hour, pointing out that this is a season of rallies, politically, socially, fraternally, educationally, and religiously. He upheld the Bible as "the object of Rally Day in our Bible Schools." Professor Garvin also highly commended the church and pastor, Rev. A. G. Adriance, for the active part they took in the Daily Vacation Bible School program last summer, saying that that had been an invaluable service to the rising generation."

John Parschall gave several clarinet solos which were much appreciated.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 63

Old Folks Need a Mild Laxative —Not a "Physic"

Most men and women past fifty must give to the bowels some occasional help else they suffer from constipation. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect a gentle aid to weak bowels.

Is your present laxative, in whatever form, promoting natural bowel "regularity"—or must you purge and "physic" every day or two to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, colds, or sour, gassy stomach?

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural, regular bowel movement even for those chronically constipated. It never gripes, sickens or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin", Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

Corselettes for All Types

The new stock of corselettes has arrived and there is a style for every figure. Some are well boned, some slightly boned while others are constructed to hold the figure without the aid of boning.

Here is where the stout women may enjoy the same comfort and grace the slender women enjoy. However every woman must remember that a corselette will not hold as firmly as a corset but in many cases the figure would look better if it had a softer appearance.

You may or you may not look well in a corselette but if you will come in we will be absolutely candid with you when you are being fitted.

CHAPTER THIRTY

SUNDAY they rested from their labors. Janet went circumspectly to church, thereby acquiring further merit in the village, but neither Roberta nor Piggy stirred out of doors all day. That night, for the first time since embarking upon this adventure, he luxuriated in long hours of sleep.

Monday morning he set off alone in the car, on a recruiting expedition, covering a wide expanse of country and eventually visiting Worcester. Late in the afternoon he returned, ran his car into the barn and lifted from the tonneau a long, narrow, covered wooden box, a smaller box, a saw, a parcel of nails, and several gunny sacks. Each of the latter was securely tied at the top for the retention of something that squirmed and uttered protest.

Setting the bags on the floor, he got a hammer from the tool-kit of the car and pounded the smaller box apart. As Roberta, contrary to her usual custom, did not immediately appear, he sounded a flourish on his motor horn and set about fitting into the larger box partitions made from the small one. When at last his co-conspirator joined him, he looked up with his roguish, small-boy grin.

"Got 'em."

"Did you?" Her smile was sober.

"All from the neighborhood, too—farmhouses. Bought 'em, prices from a quarter up. One cost a whole dollar. What's the matter? Headache?"

"No—I'm worried. Peter, Cliff's here."

"Here! In the house?"

"Oh no. But he must be staying somewhere near Jeffrey, probably. I don't believe father would ask him to stay at the house. I went over to see him this afternoon for something Janet needed quickly for cooking, and I met him. He was on horseback."

"He didn't recognize you?"

"None. I'm sure not. I wore my veil, of course, but—he stared at me hard. There aren't many people so small as I am, and I can't be known. I must be around here somewhere and is looking for me."

"Let him look. By morning it will all be over except the shouting."

"If things go well tonight. But suppose there's a slip? Suppose something goes wrong and we have to wait? He may suspect and—Anyway, I've been wondering whether it wouldn't be better to hunt him up and tell him—"

"Not on your life!"

"Why not?"

"Because he's a—" Piggy pulled himself up just in time, on the verge of telling Bob that the man she was going to marry was a quitter. Stumbling, he caught his step again. "He's a fifth wheel to this coach. We're rolling along all right and anybody else would just be a nuisance. Besides, there's no telling what he'd do. He was dead against your trying this last week and he may be yet. He might throw a monkey wrench into the machinery at the last moment."

"That's what I'm afraid of. If he objects, I'm sure I can talk him around. I did once. But if we don't tell him and he finds out—"

"How can he find out? You're Mrs. Smith, of Seattle, with two old family retainers to prove it. Roberta Scott's gone where the woodbine twineth. He may whang-doodle around awhile, but if you sit tight he'll get tired of it and go to look for you somewhere else—especially after we pull off this stunt tonight."

"We-ell. . . ." Though impressed by his confidence, Roberta did not fully share it. "You really think it would be better not to take Celia to town at once? We could drive fast all night and be there by morning, couldn't we?"

"Sure," he said derisively. "We could be perfectly obvious and give the whole thing away like a shot. We blow in from nowhere, take a house for a month with an option for the winter, stay a week, and vanish between dark and daylight. Celia disappears the same night. A car's easy to trace and they'd nab us within twenty-four hours, with the devil to pay. No! Not! We stay right here. Wage gentle strangers in deep grief, with only a mild and passing interest in local kidnapings. The thing breaks, wild excitement for a few days, sleuths all over the place, clues that lead nowhere, runaway wanderers by night arrested on suspicion and released again, and everybody supposing that whoever got Celia beat it for the dim distance—naturally. The kid will have to keep out of sight, but she's been shut up so long that a little longer won't matter. When our month's up, you regretfully decide that we can't stay all winter, we smuggle her out—"

"But how, Peter? How?"

"Oh, there are lots of ways. We'll decide that when the time comes. When we have her safely landed in Brooklyn with Janet, you'll go to some New York hotel, register as Rhoda Swift or Rebecca Schwartz or something, and write a polite letter to Whangdoodle asking how much longer he intends to postpone that wedding. I'll wash this stuff off my hair—by the way, it's turning sort o' green; you'd better retouch it tomorrow—get home from my hunting trip, and everything will be lovely. There isn't a hole in this scheme now, Bob, and don't you go poking one."

"Well—if Clif doesn't poke one himself. He's a persistent person."

Her uneasiness would have been relieved, and her already high opinion of Piggy's perspicacious forethought elevated by several notches had she overheard a conversation in the village store that afternoon.

Quicksands of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

I THOUGHT that I had run the gamut of amazement at my father's surprising advice to me concerning my plans for the future, but his cool, matter-of-fact and apparently premeditated reference to Hugh Grantland brought me bolt upright in my seat with an audible exclamation of horrified surprise. There was the beginning of alarm as well as amazement in my heart for I could think of but one explanation of my father's strange counsel to me. He must suddenly have gone out of his mind.

"Have I shocked you, Margaret?" His voice held a tender and mournful cadence. "I was afraid that if I said these things to you, I should offend you beyond forgiveness, and yet I cannot go away, go back home, without giving you what weapons I can for the conflict I see in front of you."

My uneasiness for him increased, dwarfed my resentful amazement at his astounding speeches. I had not missed the quick slurring change he had made from his inadvertently uttered "go away to the more plausible "go back home." Suddenly there came over me the conviction that I was a blindfolded actor in a drama the significance or purport of which I had not the slightest idea.

"Do not misunderstand me, dear," my father's deep tones went on. "I am not advising you to divorce Richard and marry Hugh. Instead, I would counsel you to do everything in your power to retrieve your happiness with your husband. I only wish to make sure that if Richard ever should bring to you the greatest sorrow and humiliation a woman can know—the knowledge that she is no longer supreme in her husband's affections—you will remember the years of devotion that Hugh has given you. It is a love absolutely unselfish, unobtrusive, but he is always ready when you need him, always will be. Do not make the mistake of preferring the extravagant, flamboyant homage of a man like Philip Veritzen to Hugh Grantland's steadfast devotion."

So it had been Hugh instead of Dicky whom my father had meant by his term of "sterling personality." I silently revised my verdict that my father's powers of appraisal were weakening with age, for candor compelled me to admit that Dicky possessed neither the steadfastness of Hugh Grantland nor the absolute unselfishness, the self-effacement which made the army officer's character so unusual.

But when did sanity or justice have any part in a woman's opinion of either her husband or her children? Suddenly, without reason, for Dicky in the last few months had justified my father's strictures, I felt myself flaming to his defense as if he had been Junior. I had admitted to myself that my fathers' criticisms of him were justified, but not to anyone else in the world would I breathe such an admission. With all his faults he was my man, mine to defend, to fight for with the fierce maternal instinct which every woman worthy the name has for her husband as well as her children. With wrathful inconsistence I turned upon my father in a sputtering protest.

"I never heard of anything so horrid!" I flared. "What right have you to assume that I am going to break up my home with my husband, or that if anything so dreadful should happen, I would ever consider marrying either Hugh Grantland or Philip Veritzen?"

"AT HOME" DRESS RICHLY COLORED IN RED AND GOLD

This afternoon "at home" frock by Cyber of Paris is rich in color, ruby red velour and gold brocade being used in combination. The velour, of course, forms the dress itself, with the gold brocade employed in an interesting trimming effect. Deep cuffs on the wide bell-shaped sleeves, a wide girdle in front and a bolero effect are all obtained by the use of the trimming.

BANANA FRITTERS SUPREME

1½ level teaspoons baking powder.
1 level cupful (4 ounces) flour.
2 level tablespoons (½ ounce) cornstarch.
4 level tablespoons (2 ounces) sugar.
¼ level teaspoonful salt.
1 egg, separated.
½ cupful (½ gill) milk (generous).
1 tablespoonful olive oil.

Mix flour, baking powder, cornstarch, salt and sugar and sift three times. Beat yolk and white of egg separately. Add beaten yolk and milk alternately to flour mixture; then add oil and beat until smooth. Finally fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Drop by spoonfuls into plenty of hot, but not smoking fat. Fry golden brown, turn drain out with a skimmer, and lay on absorbent paper. Trim and dust with powdered sugar and serve at once.

Cut ripe bananas in half lengthwise, then crosswise. Soak for one hour in lemon juice and sugar to taste. Then the above batter slightly with milk, dip in each section of banana and fry in hot fat. They may be served with melted currant jelly.

CABBAGE SALAD

2½ cups shredded cabbage.
4 tablespoons chopped pimento.
¾ cup diced apple.
½ cup chopped celery.
¾ cup French dressing.

Mix and serve on crisp lettuce, garnished with slices of stuffed olives and a liberal sprinkling of paprika.

DOUGHNUTS

your sons will fondly remember

I DON'T know why almost every man recalls his mother's cooking by the doughnuts she used to make—but he does.

Doughnuts seem to be one sure way to the heart of every boy from six to sixty.

Here are three of my favorite recipes for doughnuts about which your sons will tell their sons with fond recollection. Deep fried in Crisco they are rich, yet digestible—never a bit greasy.

Doughnuts

¾ cup sugar
1½ tablespoons Crisco
1 egg
¾ cup milk
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon clove
⅛ teaspoon mace
½ teaspoon salt

Cream sugar and Crisco together. Add well beaten egg and milk and mix well. Mix and sift flour, baking powder, cinnamon, clove, mace and salt. Add to the first mixture and mix thoroughly. Turn out on slightly floured board and roll to ½ inch thickness. Cut with a doughnut cutter and fry in deep hot Crisco (340 to 375 degrees F.) until a delicate brown. Drain on unglazed paper. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar before serving.

This recipe makes 24 doughnuts.

Raised Doughnuts

¾ cup sugar
3 tablespoons Crisco
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup scalded milk
1 yeast cake
2 tablespoons lukewarm water
5 cups flour
2 eggs
1 teaspoon nutmeg

Add sugar, Crisco and salt to the scalded milk. When lukewarm add the yeast cake mixed with warm water. Add enough flour to make a sponge (about 2 cups). Set in a warm place to rise. When light add well beaten eggs, nutmeg and enough flour to make a soft dough. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Knead until free from large air bubbles.

Roll out on a slightly floured board to ½ inch thickness. Cut with a doughnut cutter, cover and set in a warm place to rise again until double in bulk. Put them top side down in the deep hot Crisco (340 to 375 degrees F.). Fry on one side, turn and fry on the other side. When a delicate brown remove from fat and drain on unglazed paper. Just before serving sprinkle with confectioners' sugar.

This recipe makes 30 doughnuts.

Jelly Doughnuts

Follow recipe for Raised Doughnuts. After the second rising, roll out on a slightly floured board to ½ inch thickness. Cut with a cooky cutter. Put one teaspoon currant jelly in the center of one round, moisten edges with water and place another round on top. Press edges lightly together. Cover and set in a warm place to rise until double in bulk. Fry in the same way as Raised Doughnuts.

This recipe makes 24 doughnuts.

SHELBY WINS FROM GALION BY 18-12 SCORE

Supporters of Orangemen Satisfied with Team's Fighting Qualities

Galion, Oct. 25—Galion's crowned Orangemen went down in an 18-12 defeat before a powerful Scarlet and Gray eleven from Shelby Saturday. The teams were apparently evenly matched and the vanquished came in for a share of the honors as well as the jubilant victors. It was the most spectacular game of the season, with the largest crowd assembled that has witnessed a game at Home field this year, the band playing and excited students of both schools cheering continuously and uproariously.

Galion's players started out with surprising force and by a series of brilliant end runs succeeded in crossing the opponent's goal line during the first five minutes of play. The point after touchdown was not made. For awhile things looked exceedingly bright for the Orange and Blue but Shelby showed her ability to turn the tide and in another five minutes had evened the score. The first quarter ended with the ball in Galion's possession in centerfield.

As soon as the second period began it was evident that a change had taken place, the Galion men seemed to have lost some of the fight that had characterized their play during the first quarter. End runs made another touchdown for Shelby. Galion lost the ball on downs and as soon as the men of the Scarlet and Gray had the ball once more in their possession they started another march toward Galion's goal which the Orangemen were unable to check. The first half ended with the score 18-6 favoring Shelby.

In the third quarter the ball seesawed back and forth until the visiting players again started their rush to the Galion line. Another touchdown might have resulted had not Jackie Young, diminutive Gallonite scooped up a fumble and raced 80 yards for a touchdown. That ended the scoring. The last quarter although scoreless was the best example of evenly matched team competition seen in local grid game for some time.

Although disappointed the G. H. S. aggregation was satisfied that the team representing their Alma Mater had done all that was possible to achieve victory and had simply been outwitted by a superior eleven. The one long run brought back memories of championship teams of several years past and assured the fans that although victory was denied, G. H. S. has a bunch of real gridiron scrappers.

CARS COLLIDE IN BLINDING RAIN

Marysville Oct. 25—A very unusual accident happened on the Pennsylvania tracks near Unionville, south of here Saturday, in which a number of section men were injured. Two motor cars, going in opposite directions collided at a curve in the tracks. The injured men were Bert Stallpacker, marshal of Unionville Center, who was taken to a Columbus hospital for treatment, Virgil Flowers, Lester Robinson, and another man whose name was not learned. Several of the men escaped injury. All are residents of Unionville Center. It is probable that an investigation will be made by railroad officials. A blinding rain was given as the cause of the collision.

FESS, HOPLEY ADDRESS MEET AT MT. GILEAD

"Prosperity Due to Wise Leadership of Administration," Senator Declares

Mt. Gilead, Oct. 25—"The present business prosperity in the United States is due to the wise legislation and leadership of the Republican administration at Washington," Senator Simeon D. Fess told an audience assembled in Hall here for the big Republican rally.

The High school band, of which Prof. E. J. Fitchhorn is director, played several numbers in front of the building before the meeting opened.

Attorney P. H. Wieland acted as chairman and presented Senator Fess. The senator stated that he would give no partisan reasons in urging support for the administration. He asserted that following the World War, the American people were impressed with the magnitude of the problems to be solved, and wishing them intrusted to intelligent and capable hands, deliberately called the Republican party into power.

Secretary of Treasury Mellon was lauded as accomplishing the greatest financial feat of all ages when he sold short term securities to the American people and paid the money borrowed from banks. Senator Fess emphatically declared that the money lended to the allies must be repaid to the last dollar.

The high protective tariff was hailed as the farmers' friend. Betterment of marketing conditions was advanced as the solution of the agricultural depression. The legislative projects introduced into the last congress by the farmers' representatives were branded as ridiculous.

Hopley Talks

A plea that citizens vote a straight Republican ticket was made by State Senator James R. Hopley, of Bucyrus, candidate for congress from this district. Mr. Hopley told those who voters called for a Republican ticket at the primary, they pledged themselves to support that party.

Mr. Hopley reviewed his service in the state senate and especially emphasized his interest in highway legislation. In urging his candidacy, Senator Hopley emphasized that this district is normally Republican and that voters should consider the need of electing a congressman who will be with the majority party and vote with the administration.

Don't dope YOUR Cough

IT is not wise to use remedies which depend upon "dope" such as narcotics, chloroform, cannabis or tar products. They may stop your cough temporarily by numbing the tissues, as most cough mixtures do, but this is not enough.

The inflamed air passages must be soothed naturally, the germ-laden mucus loosened and expelled in order to effect a lasting recovery.

PERTUSSIN assists Nature to accomplish these results in a remarkably short time—and it is absolutely harmless.

Many Halloween Functions Held at Upper Sandusky

Upper Sandusky, Oct. 25—Several very clever parties in honor of the Hallowe'en season were staged over the week-end here. On Friday night, the Hi Y boys and Girl Reserves entertained the entire Senior High School, numbering about 150 at the Y. M. C. A. building. The guests came in costume, and were put through a riotous night of merry making. Chaperons were Clair Holland, Ruth Gregg, Mabel Layton and Erma Stearns.

The same night a group of 20 young boys and girls, members of the three Sunday school classes of the Evangelical church, taught by Mrs. M. E. McNairy, Paul Case and Mrs. W. H. Shieffer, gathered at the home of Mrs. McNairy. Here they were tied along a long rope and then led up the alleys, across the fields and pumpkin patches and finally down into what seemed a dark dungeon filled with terrible ghosts and witches but which turned out to be the cellar of the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Stephan. Corn fodder covered the floor, lighting effects being produced through blue electric lights. A fortune telling booth was presided over by Elizabeth Peters and added to the fun of the party. The guests were given long sticks and toasted wieners and marshmallows over specially arranged fire.

In honor of the fourth birthday anniversary of her daughter Mary, Mrs. David D. Dellinger, entertained 14 little boys and girls at her home on W. Wyandot-av Saturday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 6.

Halloween decorations were carried out in black and orange with little black and orange nut baskets as favors. Mrs. Dellinger was assisted in entertaining by Misses Miarian and Blanch Bower.

RICHWOOD CIVIL WAR VETERANS ENTERTAINED

Jesse Williams, G. A. R. Member, Honored on 84th Birthday

Richwood, Oct. 25—Mrs. William Chapman entertained with dinner at her home Friday, in honor of the 84th birthday of her father, Jesse Williams; guests included the following members of Livingston G. A. R., W. H. Sidle, Samuel McElroy, H. S. Colver, Gary Meddles, J. T. Enlow, John Ogan, E. P. Whitehead, George R. Gum, D. E. Lindsey, the combined ages of the above and the guest of honor is 822 years; and are members of nine different regiments. Other guests include Rev. and Mrs. B. F. McKinon, Mrs. Samuel McElroy, Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard Chapman and family, Mrs. Herman Worner and daughter Dorothy, Mrs. B. F. Grandstaff and son Harold, Pearl Darnell and mother, Mrs. Cora Darnell. During the afternoon plans were discussed for procuring down stairs room for the use of comrades for their post room. Rev. B. F. McKinon gave a talk to members G. A. R., and Rev. D. E. Lindsey also gave talk, and war reminescence were given by others.

HARVEST HOME SERVICE HELD AT GALION CHURCH

Sermon Delivered by Rev. Huber; Special Musical Numbers Presented

Galion, Oct. 25—Rev. Huber, pastor of the Mt. Calvary Reformed church of Crestline, delivered the sermon at the annual Harvest Home service at the First Reformd church Sunday. The church assembly room was decorated with fall flowers and the alter adorned with fruit, grain and vegetables. The keynote of Rev. Huber's address was "Gratitude" and his remarks were much appreciated by the large number in attendance.

The choir under the direction of Mrs. Rudd favored with special music and Mr. Willard Lanius a member of the congregation who has just returned from a year's study of music in Paris, sang two beautiful solos.

NORTHERN FORMING MEN'S GLEE CLUB

To Arrange Entry Into Ohio Intercollegiate Council; To Present "Mikado"

Kenton, Oct. 25—One of the largest men's glee clubs in the history of Ohio Northern University, is now in the process of organization preparatory to their initial appearance this winter in Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado." They will have the co-operation of the girls' glee club.

Arrangements will be completed during the week for Northern's entrance into the Ohio Intercollegiate Glee Club Council, enabling them to appear in the state glee club contest the latter part of February. Winners of the state competition will enter the national race in New York City.

During the last week in March the men's club plans to make a tour of the eastern section of Ohio, presenting concerts in the larger cities. The largest booking is that in Cleveland under auspices of the Cleveland alumni. Mark Evans, head of the College of Music, is organizing and training the glee club.

1,000 PERSONS ATTEND HOLMES-LIBERTY FAIR

Prizes Totaling $75 and Ribbons Awarded Winning Exhibitors

Bucyrus, Oct. 25—More than 1,000 persons attended the annual fair held at the Holmes-Liberty school, Friday and Saturday evenings. The fair was arranged by the Agricultural Club of the school. This club is composed of 30 boys selected from the four grades of high school and directed by A. H. Hathaway, agriculture teacher. The fair exhibits although not as extensive as last year however rivaled in quality the 1925 showing and were interesting as products grown by the school children. Prizes totaling $75 and ribbons were given.

On Friday evening a program including musical numbers by the orchestra preceded a travelogue by Miss Lois Dobbins, head of the music in the school. Miss Dobbins visited 9 countries in Europe this summer. Also a humorous address by Hugh Diamond of Galion was enjoyed. On Saturday evening, the Dixie Girls gave a concert. Their director, Fannie Washington, is a great great grandniece of George Washington, one of the very few of his living relatives. She was hostess at the Washington home at the Sesquicentennial the past summer and Saturday evening gave several of her experiences there.

BUCYRUS MAN HURT IN AUTO COLLISION

Dale Welling Confined at Monnette Hospital With Broken Jaw

Bucyrus, Oct. 25—Dale Welling is confined at Monnette hospital here with a broken jaw and many body lacerations as a result of collision on the Bucyrus-Galion-rd last night during the snowstorm.

Welling in company with Burke Armant was driving toward Bucyrus when they collided with a car proceeding toward Galion. Both cars were overturned. Armant and the occupants of the other car escaped with only minor bruises.

CARDINGTON FRESHMEN ATTEND HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Cardington, Oct. 25—Freshmen of Cardington High School gathered at the school auditorium Friday night for a Hallowe'en masquerade. Thirty were present. Orange and black were the elements of the color scheme of decorations, and the Hallowe'en spirit prevailed.

A contest to decide the best costumes of the evening was won by Miss Ruth Inscho, who appeared as a ballet dancer. O. J. Shaffer, as a hobo, won second honors.

The committees in charge of the party were: program, Mabel Teat, Carl Burgraff, Hilda Callahan; refreshments, Eileen Messenger, Ruth Rengert, and Margaret Ault; decorations, Ruth Conaway, Eugene Cox and Marlow Klingel.

MT. GILEAD HIGH TRIUMPHS OVER LOUDENVILLE 11

Purple Offensive Cannot Be Stopped in Making 47-6 Victory

Mt. Gilead, Oct. 25—Loudenville's offensive in the last half that could not be stopped, denied or even touched, Mt. Gilead High School football team swamped Loudonville here Saturday 47 to 6. Jim Thompson and Bob White each crossed the goal line three times and Zolman scored once. Of nine made five of the seven points after touchdown, by place kicks.

The first half was played on fairly even terms. Mt. Gilead received and marched the ball across the field and Thompson scored through the line from the 15 yard line. In the second quarter, Mt. Gilead advanced the ball to Loudonville's three yard line, when Osborne's pass back from center was bad, and the ball shot past the backfield. Loudonville scooped it up and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. This was the only time during the game that the invaders were near the goal. The period ended 7 to 6 in favor of Mt. Gilead.

Mt. Gilead scored 21 points in the third quarter. Bob White scored on a pass and a cross buck and Zolman carried the ball across once on a line play.

In the final period the locals added 19 more points. White scored once more and Thompson carried the ball over twice. The last score came following heavy penalties upon Loudonville for offensive language to the referee. The game ended with Mt. Gilead's entire squad of substitutes in the game. They were on their way to a touch down when the whistle ended the game.

Mt. Gilead made 16 first downs as compared with three for the invaders. The local's pass offense as well as defense was working well.

Summary: Mt. Gilead, 47. W. Bennett, le; Crayne, lt; W. Shade, lg; Osborne, c; Mathews, rg; D. Shade, rt; Whitney, re; E. Stevens, qb; Zolman, lh; White, rh; J. Thompson, fb.

Loudonville, 6. Schneider, le, Wolf, lt; Swank, lg; R. Geiselman, c; Philips, rg; Young, rt; Bontang, re; Miller, qb; Goll, lh; Stockman, rh; Zimmerman, fb.

Substitutions: Mt. Gilead — R. Stevens for E. Stevens; Byrd for Mathews; Gallegher for W. Shade; C. Thompson for Whitney; G. Bennett for W. Shade; Nesbitt for Zolman, Dye for White.

Loudonville—Huston for Young; G. Geiselman for Huston; Sidle for Phillips; Keiffer for Bunting; Utterback for Swank.

Referee: Hanson, O. W. U.

The locals will meet Lexington here next Friday afternoon. This is the first time these schools have met in football for some years. Lexington is one of the strong teams in the Richland County league and a good battle is expected.

COUPLE OBSERVES 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Children Honor Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Brinkerhoff, Upper Sandusky

Upper Sandusky, Oct. 25—Sunday marked the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Brinkerhoff, life-long residents of this city. In honor of the occasion their children, all of whom are living, spent the week-end at the Brinkerhoff home on N. Eighth-st. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Z. K. Brinkerhoff, of Dallas, Texas; Dr. and Mrs. V. M. Brinkerhoff and daughter Barbara, of Toledo; H. A. Brinkerhoff and daughter Mary, of New York City; Miss Grace Brinkerhoff, this city.

Mr. Brinkerhoff is a well known resident of this city, having been an active member of the firm of A. W. Brinkerhoff & Sons, piano dealers, for over 50 years. He recently retired from active business.

Mr. and Mrs. Brinkerhoff have nine grandchildren.

NOV. 1 NAMED FESTIVAL DATE BY COMMITTEE

Mayors from Surrounding Cities To Act as Judges; Parade Planned

Bucyrus, Oct. 25—What promises to be the most successful Mardi-Gras ever held in Bucyrus is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 1, the final celebration of Halloween and the official observance for the entire county. A committee of three men, Raymond Lynch, Ralph Jolly and M. B. Morrisey, prominent business men and community leaders have sole charge of the big event. They represent the various business houses, the organizations and clubs which have sponsored it and this committee together with Mayor Arthur Schuler have promised a gay time for everybody.

The sum of $800 is to be given away as prize money and has been collected from Bucyrus merchants and organizations. There are to be four prizes for the ancient costume in the parade, ranging from $25 on down and equal number and amounts to be given for the funniest costume. For the two best arranged windows of merchants the sums of $15 and $10 will be given. For floats from over the county on any subject including displays of farm products, five awards are to be made, the first $25 and on down.

The judges for these various departments in the Mardi Gras are to be mayors from surrounding cities and the following have signified their intention of helping Bucyrus with this, Mansfield, Marion, Galion, Crestline, Tiro, Upper Sandusky, Attica, Mt. Gilead, Carey Tiffin and New Washington. These judges are to be entertained by a committee from the Rotary club on this evening who will act as their honorary escorts over the town. Delegations from the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs of Attica, Galion and Crestline are to be guests of Mayor Schuler and will also assist in the judging.

The success of the Mardi Gras hinges on the size of the parade and much interest is being manifested in this end of the big event. All entries are to be given numbered identification cards which are to be placed on their arms, from these numbers the judges will make their selections afterward, the best dressed getting the most votes from the men and so on by a process of elimination. In the parade will be bands from Marion, Chatfield, New Washington, the Mansfield Reformatory band, the 134th Field Artillery and Bucyrus high school musical organizations.

All those who are assisting are donating their services. Several churches and the King's Daughters are having stands, where Halloween confections such as hot dough-nuts, coffee, pumpkin pies and the like may be purchased. No out-of-town persons will be permitted to sell any product. The Eagles and Moose will hold dances in their hall on this evening.

WHATEVER problems the future may bring, engineering science will take care of them. Our little efforts will seem to the future like children building block houses. But we have made a start.

Engineers boring a tunnel through a great mountain, from both sides meet in the middle and the lines at perfectly, as though built in the open air, with absolute nicety.

In the West engineers, testing dam construction and water pressure, are building an arched retaining wall higher and higher, along new lines, and will continue raising the wall until the increasing mass of water back of it breaks it down. Many interesting discoveries have been made already, in that experiment, watched by the engineers of the world.

REAL engineering will begin with the conquering of power unlimited, the tides or the sun's energy harnessed electrically. Then mountains will be moved easily, canals dug by pressing a button, deserts and swamps will be unknown. And when we control and harness torrents, and give the thirsty earth all the water it wants, the day for digging canals to hold the ocean on a round earth may be indefinitely postponed.

Mobs of Students Storm City; Troops Use Force to Disperse Them

London, Oct. 29—Martial law has been proclaimed in the Shanghai territory, according to a dispatch today from there. The action was taken following the various scenes of the week end, during which mobs of students favorable to the Cantonese cause stormed the city, compelling the troops to use force to disperse them. One student was killed and several wounded in the fighting.

A feature of the disturbance was the participation by Chinese girls, aggressively urging their fellow students on and engaging in the stone throwing.

Shelby and Mansfield Remain Undefeated in League

Seventeen Grid Teams Remain Undefeated; Dopesters Again Miss a Few

Bucyrus Shifts to Second While Ashland, Delaware and Harding High Go Down

Marion's Victoryless Eleven Learns Lessons Well at Saturday's League Games and Prepares To Start Second Round of Season's Schedule Saturday at Bucyrus

VICTORIES by Shelby and Mansfield, the North Central Ohio League leaders from Richland County, Saturday makes little change in this week's standing. Bucyrus won and gained a notch while Ashland lost again and dropped, widening the gap between the championship contenders and the second division.

Two games this week will greatly influence the league championship race this year.

Harding Going to Bucyrus

Harding High will go to Bucyrus for the purpose of cutting the second position holders down while Shelby's big winners will be at Ashland. The Ashland game will be watched with much interest too because it may just take a team like J. A. McDowell High to defeat Shelby for the first time in the league this season. And that is a good prediction for the simple reason that Ashland County always plays 50 per cent better against Richland County teams.

Mansfield's 13 to 7 victory over Delaware Saturday at Mansfield doesn't indicate much for the Red and White. Coach J. Russell Murphy used his regulars a greater part of the game and at that they failed to show their usual championship form. It must be considered too that Delaware is growing stronger and stronger each game. It has three defeats, no wins and Galion and Harding to meet.

Shelby's 18 to 12 victory over Galion was not as big as had been predicted from previous records made by the northern Richland County camp. Galion is improving each game and has two wins over Ashland and Harding by scores of 6 to 0 each. With Shelby slowing down, it stands a very good chance for defeat at Ashland, another league team that is improving each game.

Bucyrus Beats Ashland

One of the biggest tests of the day was at Ashland Saturday where Bucyrus had a difficult time winning, 7 to 6. Bucyrus shows up much better today in the standing; but play on the field proved that Ashland is a fighting team ready to cause plenty of trouble in the first division.

GRID INJURIES FATAL

Lorain—The first football fatality in Lorain County this season occurred last week when Ray Brightbill, 18 of Amherst died in a hospital here. He received spinal injuries several weeks ago in a practice game with an independent team near here.

ILLINOIS WORKS TO STOP PENN

Zuppke Gets Busy When Scouts Confirm News Reports

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 25—Bob Zuppke began working today to figure out some kind of a defense for the mysterious "hidden ball" offense of Pennsylvania.

Assistant Coaches Olander and Rokusek returned yesterday from Philadelphia and reported that the Ben Franklins stratagism was as baffling as newspaper reports declared. The Illini still bank on "Frosty" Peters as a drop-kicker and predict that his toe will be a big factor in the Penn game. Peters, they point out, did not have a real chance to show his stuff Saturday at Ann Arbor where all his tries were from the 40 yard line or farther back, against a wind.

Pennsylvania will invade the West in full strength. The Ben Franklins have requisitioned 3,000 tickets and will bring several special trains.

STAGING GRIDIRON COMEBACK

New York—New York University is coming back from the depths. It is gaining recognition this season among the leading elevens of the east, by reason of a smashing victory over Tulane and an unblemished slate. In 1913 the team that sported the violet colors not only did not win a game but failed to score a single point in eight contests. Opponents scored 241.

MIDWEST WAITS FOR ARMY-NAVY ANNUAL CLASSIC

Chicago Will Be Scene of Modern Gold Rush Nov. 27

Chicago, Oct. 25—Football's biggest gate!

That's what the Army-Navy gridiron clash in Soldiers' Field, Chicago, November 27, will be.

A total of more than half a million dollars will be paid by the mid west football mad fans to watch the service elevens battle it out in their tenth meeting.

Five hundred boxes of six seats each, sold here at public auction, netted a total of more than $100,000, and in addition 10,000 seats at $10 each will be sold to the public.

"Standing room" only durats may also be sold after the regular quota of tickets is exhausted so that there is a possibility the total gate receipts for the game may reach close to three quarters of a million dollars.

Decision to auction the box seats, located close to the seats of the secretaries of war and navy and other distinguished official guests, was made after a survey showed the tremendous cost of bringing the entire student bodies of the navy academy at Annapolis and the army school at West Point to Chicago to witness the game.

Chicago was awarded the 1926 service game with the understanding that all of the students at the two academies were to be brought here to watch the battle. Special trains will carry the elevens and their schoolmates to Chicago and they will be entertained here at the leading clubs and hotels.

The top price at the auction of the box seats was $2,500. That sum was paid for six seats by G. Frank Croissant, Chicago and Florida millionaire. Other boxes sold for smaller sums, down to $150.

MARION BUICKS SHUT OUT KENTON

Automobile Men Are Too Speedy for New York Centrals

Marion's fast Buick bowlers defeated Kenton's New York Central pin busters by 184 pins in the grand totals Saturday at the Y. M. C. A. alleys. The match was special for total pins only.

R. Ferner's 201 in his second game for Kenton, was high for the evening. Sipes also made a double century mark in his second game.

Shoemaker's 201 was the highest score made by the Buick stars.

In making its lead of 184 in the grand total, the Buick team had to take all three games by margins of 9, 70 and 105 points.

Pastimes Coming

Kenton's big Pastime bowling team will be here Saturday to roll a return match with the Buicks which lost three weeks ago at Kenton.

The Buick bowlers are steadily improving and before starting their regular stride they are waiting until mud season. However, a number of independent games are being scheduled by the Buick management. Announcement was made this morning that the Buicks will invade Mansfield within the next week or two. That will be its official big test.

GENE TUNNEY'S POPULARITY IS STANDING TEST

Typical American Boy Champion Has Real Winning Personality

Speaking of heavies, Gene Tunney is bound to be a popular champion despite whatever cool opinion some critics may hold regarding his ability. He is a gentleman first, last and always. The more one looks back over Dempsey's career the more one is impressed with the knowledge that the brightest pages in his reign in a way, were those in which he showed a serious desire to absorb some of the finer things in life. These desires did little to satisfy the boxing fans yet they were natural ones for Jack. He spoke a different language the night he collected his pay for his battle with Gene Tunney than he did the day he entered the east as a two-fisted hard guy, living on haymakers and the biggest steaks money could buy.

HARRY GREB'S BODY VIEWED IN PITTSBURGH

Sister Receives Hundreds of Messages; Funeral Services Wednesday

Pittsburgh, Oct. 25—Hundreds of friends and admirers of Harry Greb passed the bier of the former middleweight champion in the home of his sister, Mrs. J. E. Edwards, here today.

Upon its arrival here from Atlantic City, where Greb died in a sanitarium, the body was taken to Mrs. Edwards' home where it will repose pending the arrival of another sister, Clara Greb, from Spokane, Wash.

Floral tributes and messages from Greb's friends poured in from all parts of the country. Jack Dempsey, ex-heavyweight champion, wired:

"I have lost one of my best friends and the world one of its greatest champions."

Johnny Wilson, whom Greb stripped of the middleweight title, sent a message of sympathy as did Tiger Flowers, who took the title from Greb.

Funeral services will be held in the Sacred Heart Church Wednesday. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery here.

ADOPT CONGRESS RULES

Fremont — Rules of the American Bowling Congress will apply at the tourney of the Intercity Bowling Association in Fremont early in 1927, it was announced following a meeting of association officials. Dates for holding the tourney will be fixed at the next meeting of officials, when a successor to W. H. Ireland of Lima, a member of the executive committee who resigned, also will be named.

PELICAN LINE-UP WRECKED

There will be several big holes in the New Orleans team next season, for sale and draft having taken a number of stars. First of all, Pitcher Luther Roy goes to the Chicago Cubs. Harvey Hendrick has been sold to Brooklyn while Ollie Tucker has been taken over by Washington. Pitcher Cvengros was caught by the Pirates in the draft.

Point Guessers Still are Figuring Saturday's Few Big Unpredicted Victories

Surprises Come with Defeats of Yale, Dartmouth, Alabama and Kansas Aggies, While Navy, Holy Cross, Auburn, Washington State and Kentucky Turn in Victories

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—Football's weekly flip-flop Saturday left 17 teams undefeated for the season and the experts without a leg to stand on as always. The number of unbeaten teams is a bit unusual for this stage of the proceedings but the fact that expert opinion is again legless seems to be without significance of any kind.

Divided we stand united we fall seems to be the watchword of the boys who try to call them as they see them. They said Yale would beat Brown on a gallop. Yale didn't. They rallied around the idea that Dartmouth was due for a comeback against a disorganized Harvard team. They were wrong on both counts. Harvard wasn't disorganized and Dartmouth didn't come back.

They were convinced that Alabama would romp over Sewanee, that Kansas Aggies would win handily from Oklahoma and that Princeton was in a mere workout with Lehigh. None of these things happened. Alabama won by the margin of a safety, the Aggies by three points and Princeton by one point.

Navy Lucky To Win

The Navy was another team that was largely favored by the form players. Yet Colgate was leading in the final minute, was on the one yard line with another score imminent and everything seemed to be in the bag when a Navy substitute picked up a loose ball and ran 99 yards to victory.

Holy Cross' scant victory over Western Maryland, the 2 to 0 victory of Auburn over Tulane, Washington State's decision over Washington, and Kentucky's fine effort in beating Florida were among the milder surprises.

However, this is no indictment of expert opinion. The form players, in fact, scored when Pennsylvania beat Williams by thirty-six points; when Michigan defeated Illinois, Notre Dame came through against Northwestern, and W. & J. beat Fordham, New York University stepped right away from Rutgers and Missouri beat Iowa State.

The Army's easy victory over Boston University was another "natural." So was Stanford's 29 to 12 verdict over Oregon and Southern California's victory over California. The defeats of Washington and California on the same day merely served to illustrate how the old order changeth. According to all the available data, Stanford, U. S. C. and St. Marys are the class of the coast coterie this season.

Ohio Going Strong

Ohio State's impressive performance against Iowa likewise surprised no one, nor did Nebraska's defeat of Kansas. Some of the boys seemed a bit shocked that Syracuse, minus some of its first line stars, was able to beat Penn State, but I didn't see it that way. It doesn't appear to be much of a trick to beat Penn State.

Vanderbilt's 14 to 13 victory over Georgia occasioned little comment because they were a toss-up, anyhow, and the same might be said for Georgia Tech's defeat of Washington and Lee. In line with general expectations also was Boston College's unanimous victory over St. Louis University, West Virginia's defeat of West Virginia Wesleyan, and that of Grinnell over Washington University, Wisconsin over Indiana, Minnesota over Wabash and Drake over Mississippi.

Purdue's defeat of Chicago was not entirely unexpected, either, nor can one view with alarm the fact that Carnegie Tech beat its old rival, Pittsburgh. These were games that could have been called either way.

The experts, in fact, had their moments. They weren't able to foresee Brown's victory, although the Bears has had a distressing habit of beating Yale—distressing to New Haven, that is. They couldn't imagine Harvard beating Dartmouth; yet it was no secret that the crimson was coming fast. As for those close-score things they can be thrown out. If your team wins at all nowadays, it is considered bad taste to ask how it did it.

17 Undefeated Elevens

Some of the undefeated survivors of the day were Michigan, Pennsylvania, Southern California, Stanford, Alabama, Army, Cornell, Navy, Lafayette, Holy Cross, Missouri, Notre Dame, New York's University, Ohio State, W. and J., West Virginia and Brown.

The latter now takes front rank with the best of them, and, if you care for my opinion as to just who these are, I would name Michigan, Notre Dame, Pennsylvania, Army, Stanford, Ohio State, South California and possibly Missouri, the latter having been handicapped in all its games by a poor field.

PLAN BIG CAGE GAME

Youngtown, O.—After an informal discussion of plans for the dedication exercises for the remodeled Y. M. C. A. gym, Chairman Russell McKay and his committee adjourned today to meet again on Nov. 1. The program is scheduled to open on Dec. 17 and be continued for three days. Chief among the activities suggested were a basketball game between two big college teams, volley ball and basketball contests and a banquet.

A torchlight parade of 380 elephants was a feature of the entertainment program arranged for the king and queen of the Belgians on their recent visit to Kandy, Ceylon.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

Yesterday was Sunday, and summer has went. There is not enough summer for all the world to have it at once, so half the time the world tips up and puts this side closest to the sun and we have summer, then it gives the other side a chance and we have winter. And when it is winter we wish it was summer, and when it is summer my father says it beats hel how summer hangs on. Anyone that has two dummed brutes to milk and a dog to let down by the rope in its teeth like Jubilee every morning would wish that it would be summer always.

When I let Jubilee down yesterday morning it was winter and the wind was blowing my shirt around my bare legs, and he was looking at me like he would like to say: "You know what you are if you let me down in this cold weather." I was so goosepimplish that I bet if I had washed all over the washrag would of thought it was being used on a barb wire fence. My ant washed my face and neck and ears the same as always on Sunday morning.

This morning I made the fires and lugged out the ashes and fed and milked the dummed brutes, and by the time I fed my face and swiped some pancakes for Jubilee the bunch was there, and we all went out to the pasture to sort of look around. When a feller has been to the pasture every day for a year it is hard to stop going. It is like as if a feller was running fast and tried to stop without slowing down.

Younisa and Feeble and Maggie, the girl that got fascinated on her leg so it wouldn't show and then dresses got shorter and fooled her were along and we started to take out like they were the cows and we were driving them to pasture but Younisa and Maggie got mad. Feeble didn't get mad, but she made out like she was a cow, and she was jumping around shaking her head like she was going to horn someone and kicking up her heels and we were having a lot of fun till she got your Peanuts and socked him in the stummick, and then they all ran away laughing. He laid down and groaned for a while.

He said every time he turned his stummick towards school it hurt offul, but when he turned it towards home it felt better, so he was going home. But his mother brang him to school. He said she landed on him, and when he turned toward school his stummick hurt, and when he turned towards home the other part hurt, so he stayed at school.

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

"And we can have honey cakes for lunch," said Baby Bunty.

"Eh! What's that? Honey cakes for lunch? What do you mean?" asked Uncle Wiggily suddenly sitting up straight in the easy chair and looking at the little rabbit girl.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" laughed Baby Bunty, clapping her paws. "I believe you have been asleep! You didn't hear a thing I have been telling you, did you?"

"Well," slowly answered Mr. Longears, with a funny little smile, "just now I heard you say something about honey cakes, but I don't know what it all means."

"I knew it! I could have told you that!" exclaimed the laughing little orphan rabbit child, who was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Longears in the hollow stump bungalow. "Dear me! I should have waited!" and she closed her eyes resigned like and patient.

"What's it all about?" begged Uncle Wiggily.

"Why," explained Bunty, "I was telling you how nice it would be if you took me on a picnic to the woods and we looked for an adventure, and then I said we could have honey cakes for lunch. But you must have been asleep all the while I was talking."

"I heard what you said about honey cakes, anyhow," claimed the rabbit gentleman. "And to make everything all right, Bunty, I will go with you adventuring in the woods!"

"Hurray!" cried Bunty, clapping her paws again. "And what about the honey cakes?"

"If I can find any we'll take them," promised Mr. Longears. "But as my wife is away, and as Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy doesn't like me snooping around in the cupboard I'll go with you to the store and we'll buy some honey cakes."

But when Mr. Longears and Bunty went to the store the poodle dog gentleman who kept it, barked:

"I have no honey cakes, but I have some sugar cookies."

"Will they do, Bunty?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

Bunty thought for a moment and answered:

"We can take some sugar cookies and go to the wood to look for a hollow tree where some wild bees have made their nest. Wild bees store honey in a hollow tree. They will give us some of their sweets, and if we put some of it between two sugar cookies that will make a honey cake. Hurray! Hurrah! Hurroo!"

"I always said Bunty was smart!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "We will take some of your sugar cookies, Mr. Poodle."

With the cookies in a bag, Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty hopped to the woods and they were not long in finding a hollow tree where the bees were storing away the last of the fall honey.

"Take as much as you like of our sweets," invited the Queen Bee, and soon Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty had spread enough of the flower juice between sugar cookies to make a number of honey cakes. These honey cakes they put down on a clean, mossy log in a row; two, six, eight honey cakes.

"We won't eat them right away," said Bunty. "It's so much nicer to think how good they are going to taste. It makes the fun last longer. Let's go look for an adventure, and when we come back we will eat our honey cakes!"

So the two bunnies hopped off into the woods, but no adventure could they find. Though when they got back to the mossy log an adventure was waiting for them, and it was far from a pleasant one. For all the honey cakes were gone! Yes, sir, every one!

"Oh, who took them?" cried Bunty.

And just then, up in a tree, sounded a queer noise. Uncle Wiggily looked and there he saw a saucy Blue Jay bird whose beak was so stuck together that he couldn't open it to cry "fish hook!" which is his favorite word.

All the honey cakes were gone.

"Ha! That Jay took our honey cakes!" said Uncle Wiggily. "I can see honey sticking on his bill! He's all stuck up!" And so the bird was. Down he flew to a spring of water, and when he had washed his beak the sticky stuff came off and he could speak.

"I only ate one of your honey cakes," he said. "The others I have hidden under the leaves. I didn't know they were so sticky or I wouldn't have taken them. Here, take the rest!" And he showed where the other cakes were hidden, so the two bunnies had enough to eat, and away flew the Blue Jay.

"Well, anyhow, we had an adventure," laughed Bunty, and Mr. Longears said the same. And if the roller skate doesn't play tag with the coolish ball, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the last leaf.

A self-denying movement that might be encouraged is one pledging people to stay quietly in their homes one evening a week.

HOME SERVICE APPEAL STARTS NEXT MONDAY

Executive Committee Members Announced Today by Chairman J .W. Llewellyn

Henry J. Barnhart, Mrs. M. H. Frank, George T. Geran, Miss Alice Hupe, Frank A. Huber, Mrs. Lewis Uhl, Charles B. King, Asa C. Queen and John A. Schroeter will serve as members of the executive committee for the Salvation Army Home Service Appeal which will open Monday, Nov. 1, it was announced today by J. W. Llewellyn, chairman.

Arrangements will be completed for the work by Saturday and Monday teams will start the work of canvassing for the $5,000 which is the amount required to maintain the Army's work in Marion for the coming year. Letters are being sent out from campaign headquarters, 116½ S. Main st., to the various churches and civic organizations urging their support and cooperation in this work. Solicitations will be made by service of the law are permitted to assist of business men while women of the various teams will make a house to house canvass. The campaign will close Saturday, Nov. 6.

"Everyone approached on the subject seems eager and willing to assist," Chairman Llewellyn said today. "The Salvation Army's work in Marion is one that should receive the support of every one," he stated. "While the organization is of a religious nature, the relief work is non-sectarian, they extend a helping hand to those in need regardless of race, creed or color. Certain phases of their work are unknown to the public and any publicity on many of them would only spoil any effort for carrying on the work and in many cases keep those in need of help from applying for assistance.

"Those in charge of unfortunate girls take every precaution to keep their confidence a secret and no one except those in service of the law are permitted to secure any information from army headquarters. Marion has no home where girls may be cared for and those received here are transferred to either Cincinnati or Cleveland. The girls are given every opportunity to start life anew and this is done in most cases, where without the assistance of the army they would be forever listed as just "missing."

MUSIC REPLACES STUNTS

Lincoln, Neb.—Musical entertainment will replace "stunts" between halves at University of Nebraska football games henceforth, Herbert Gish, director of athletics at the school, has ruled.

The break in football relations with the University of Notre Dame following a farce poking fun at the famous "Four Horsemen" of that team last season, was given as the leading reason for the elimination.

STOCK PRICES SETTLE TO LOWER PRICE LEVEL

Professionals Dominate Dull and Featureless Market Session Today

New York, Oct. 25—In a dull and featureless market dominated by the professional element, prices settled downward to a lower level on today's session.

Some of the industrial leaders made a show of strength in the forenoon period, under the leadership of United States Steel common but selling orders flowed into the market in greater volume than could be absorbed except at a declining range of values.

Professionals who have been working for lower prices renewed their aggressive selling campaign with the publication of the government's cotton crop estimate, which added about 800,000 bales to the survey issued two weeks ago. It was inferred by these professionals that a further break in cotton prices was imminent and that an outcome would unsettle stocks as in previous sessions. The cotton market showed little traces of nervousness, however, and the stock market bears shifted their tactics.

Outside of the cotton crop report the industrial and trade news of the day was weaker. Western railroad managers made favorable comments upon the present volume of traffic in their respective territories and estimated their earnings in excess of the same period last year. Recessedness with respect to tariff bickering were contained in Secretary Mellon's public statement.

Banks called a considerable volume of money from the call loan market but funds were in good supply at the prevailing rate of 4 1 4 per cent.

OPEN BIDS FOR WORK ON NEW KRESGE BUILDING

Contract for Construction of Block To Be Let Tuesday Morning

Bids on construction of the new S. S. Kresge Co. building to be erected at 143-147 W. Center st, were opened at Hotel Harding today by R. P. Ramsdell of Detroit, an official of the Kresge engineering and architectural department, and the contract will probably be let Tuesday morning.

Work on the building, which will be a three-story structure of brick, stone, steel and concrete, is expected to start at once. A force of workmen employed by G. H. Shartzer of Dayton, who was awarded the contract for razing the Barlow building, which occupied the site for 35 years, have practically completed the dismantling progress and the ground will be entirely cleared by the time the building contractor is ready to start.

Tearing down of the Barlow building was accomplished with remarkable speed, only about two weeks being required to dismantle the three story structure and haul away all of the material. Final cleaning up of the ground is in progress today.

The new Kresge building will be the location of a Kresge "green front" store, scheduled to open early next year. It will be one of the most modern and complete store structures in this part of the state, the plans indicate.

DRIVERS ESCAPE WHEN AUTOS COLLIDE HEADON

Blinding headlights are given as the cause of head on collision of two automobiles Saturday night two miles and a half west of Caledonia near the Frank Fish farm. Both cars were damaged. All occupants escaped without injury. Clyde Dana, Caledonia, was driving the one car and was proceeding east, the other car going west.

Name of the driver of the second car was not learned.

SENATOR REED ORDERS OREGON INVESTIGATION

Slush Fund Charges in Senatorial Campaign Set Quizzing Solon in Action

Federal Building, Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 25—A slush fund investigation of the Oregon senatorial campaign was ordered today, by Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, chairman of the senatorial campaign fund committee.

Federal Building, Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 25. The charges of Clyde A. Walh, Republican state chairman of Indiana, that an $8,000,000 fund was pledged by "Wall St. internationalists" to defeat the senate little band of "irreconcilables," were riddled here today by Rev. Joseph Myers, Jr., former Indiana secretary of the League of Nations non partisan association, while testifying at Senator James A. Reed's one man slush fund inquiry.

Reverend Myers characterized Walh's charges as "poppycock," and "nonsense."

The charges were the product of a "fevered imagination," Myers testified, as the association spent only $14,000 in the last year over the entire country and did most of its work among school children.

DRYS LAUNCHING FIGHT TO WIN REFERENDUMS

California, Colorado, Montana, Nevada and Missouri Named as Battlegrounds

Washington, Oct. 25.—Discarding their reported indifference toward liquor referendum, the drys have opened a smashing offensive to win in five states on Nov. 2, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of America, disclosed today.

The drys have named California, Colorado, Montana, Nevada and Missouri as their battlegrounds, Wheeler said. He declared prohibition forces are making no fight in New York, Illinois and Wisconsin.

While the dry "line" was leaving his rosy forecast, C. C. Hinckley, secretary of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, declared a survey assured the wets of victory in seven of the eight referendum states.

The wet organization has repudiated the proposed Missouri referendum, which is in dispute, as unfair to wets and drys alike, Hinckley said.

Nearly one-fourth of the voters of the country will face the wet and dry question when they enter the voting booth in the referendum states.

"We have entered the fight with local forces in those states where repeal of state enforcement laws is threatened and in Nevada where it is proposed to petition congress to call a constitutional convention," said Wheeler. "We will win in every one of them."

The drys favor holding of a referendum in Missouri, Wheeler said. He hinted at the possibility of court action to force the question on the ballot.

A pun is permissible, (1) when it is so good that it seems to have been inspired; (2) when it is excruciatingly far-fetched.

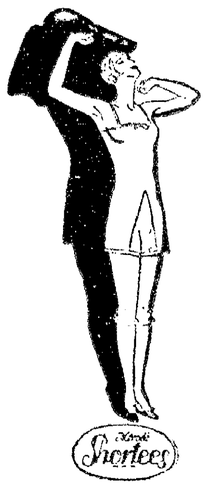
This Is Merode Week

A mighty good time to get acquainted with Merode Shortees and Merode Stocking Tops.



"Shortees" is that modern year round Athletic Union Suit that thousands of women have acclaimed as ideal.

It is knit in bodice top and built up shoulder models of finest yarns —it is hand made to fit the form—its smart lines end in a slight graceful flare above the knee—it affords the body entire freedom of movement.

"Stocking Tops," too is a Union Suit of athletic type, ending just above the knee in a snug, comforting cuff. Over the cuff the stocking pulls smoothly and evenly. Gone forever is that unsightly bunching where stocking and underwear meet.
